After acquainting himself with a few residents, he sneaks into The Queen Victoria public house and helps himself to a drink behind the bar. Alfie takes advantage of the misunderstanding to commit identity fraud against Wright. Alfie packs any stock he could find in a bin bag, ready to leave. Jim Branning John Bardon catches him, but assumes Alfie is throwing away outdated stock and tricks Alfie into giving him a pint on the house. Winston, Martin, Ricky Butcher Sid Owen and Sam Mitchell Kim Medcalf realise that Alfie has told them all different background stories but he manages to reconcile the inconsistent stories. Alfie later answers the phone to the real Chris Wright and tells him the position is filled, revealing his intention to stay. Alfie reluctantly accepts her proposal. Alfie shares a bond with barmaid Kat Slater Jessie Wallace and an attraction develops. Eventually Kat reciprocates his feelings and one night when the pub is closed, Kat reveals her feelings to him. They decide to embark on their relationship slowly, but his inability to trust her causes her to rethink the romance and she breaks up with Alfie, within less than a week. Nana tells Alfie and he rushes to the wedding to confess his true feelings as the ceremony takes place. Kat jilts Andy and he swears revenge before leaving Walford. Alfie and Kat quickly get engaged and decide to hold the wedding on Christmas Day , less than a month away. However, Alfie is still married to his first wife, Liza Joanne Adams. There are only a few days before the wedding so he tries to quickly finalise the divorce while trying to keep it secret from Kat, though Liza makes it difficult as she wants Alfie to take her back. Alfie is forced to cancel the minister on Christmas Day and he panics, but gets his friend Ray David Walliams to pretend to be a minister, while planning to tell Kat the truth a few days later. Alfie convinces the minister to cancel his Christmas lunch, and Alfie and Kat marry. Andy begins demanding cash every week, which he knows Alfie cannot afford. She reluctantly agrees and they sleep together, with a reluctant Kat oozing with guilt. Though unknown to her, Alfie has paid Andy the money. Andy keeps the money and gives Alfie a video tape of Kat cheating on Alfie with him. They watch the sex tape together and she reveals the whole story behind her infidelity. When Alfie insults Kat, she slaps him, with him doing the same thing. Afterwards, the couple attempt to put the incident behind them but their marriage starts to deteriorate and Alfie is unable to trust Kat. She moves out of Walford for while. Alfie helps Mo bring up her baby, Freddie , and they decide to announce that they are an item. However, Kat returns before they have a chance, and she makes it clear that she wants Alfie back. He is torn between the two sisters, eventually choosing Kat. He lets Mo down gently, and they share a final goodbye hug, which Billy assumes is them getting together. In the pub, Billy drunkenly announces that Alfie and Little Mo are an item. Alfie announces that he is leaving to drive across the United States in a Ford Capri , and it seems he has gone for good when he waves goodbye to a heartbroken Kat on Christmas Day After getting drunk and drowning her sorrows in the pub, Kat is stunned to see Alfie waiting for her outside. Kat and Alfie then get into the car together and drive off. Kat returns to London, revealing that she and Alfie conned a man called Frankie Finnerty and she is now on the run. Alfie and Kat have a heart to heart and it is revealed that Alfie spent six months in prison for property fraud and they tried to have a baby but he has fertility problems. Kat is not interested and tries to leave, telling him that she is pregnant and he is not the father. Kat gives him 24 hours. Kat is angry and demands he get the money back as they need a regular income. He introduces Michael to Kat and Michael says that he is returning to Spain and asks her to go with him. Alfie struggles to pay the rent and tries gambling again but loses. Kat sees Alfie and Roxy together and fights with Roxy. However, Kat decides that she does not need a big ceremony so she and Alfie have one in the Square with just him and Kat. Kat gives birth to a boy named Tommy but is rushed to hospital as she haemorrhages, due to a damaged placenta. When Alfie gets home, he finds "Tommy" dead in his cot. Kat and Alfie struggle to cope with their loss but eventually start to deal with it until Michael returns, wanting to see his son. Kat tells Michael to leave but he stays because he has friends locally. Kat kisses Michael but he rejects her, leading her to break down. Eventually Alfie moves out after they have a row and goes away for a weekend with Michael. He comforts her and they reconcile. Eventually, Ronnie admits to Kat that she swapped the babies and returns Tommy. Alfie and Kat are reunited with Tommy after talking to a social worker. Ronnie goes to prison for her crime and Kat forgives her. Kat finds out she is pregnant and Alfie asks who the father is, refusing to believe Kat has not cheated. Alfie realises he has gone too far but Kat is not interested in his apologies, even after she miscarries. Alfie takes Kat, Tommy and Shenice on holiday but when they return, Kat tells Alfie that she cheated. They discuss it and Alfie insists that he would rather Kat cheat on him than not have her in his life. They try to mend things over Christmas but Alfie hears Kat say that she does not think he loves her. Alfie pays a friend Gerry Paul Reynolds to claim he is a marriage counsellor and tell Kat that their marriage can be mended. However, when Alfie deliberately leaves them alone, she says she thinks Alfie does not love her and she wants to end the marriage. Gerry tries to tell Alfie but he thinks that Gerry has helped. When Charlie has a stroke, Alfie and Kat visit but he returns alone. However, Derek is scammed by Alfie and Billy and he suspects Phil conned him. When Billy is arrested on suspicion of murdering Heather Trott Cheryl Ferguson , Derek worries that he may implicate them in the alcohol theft and asks Alfie to frame Phil by hiding goods at his garage. However, Alfie is caught and Phil confronts him, making it clear that Alfie takes orders from him, not Derek. When Derek learns that Alfie has told Phil everything, he furiously threatens Alfie. This makes things awkward and she quits her job at the pub. After a while, Alfie manages to convince Roxy to return and offers her a place to stay. Jean is conned out of money that belongs to The Queen Victoria while Alfie is away and when he returns, he borrows money from Roxy to pay the bills, angering Kat. Alfie starts a pub football team and pays more attention to that than to Kat, so she starts an affair. Kat tries to resist but eventually the affair turns to love. She denies it initially but eventually admits it, refusing to say who the other man is. Alfie demand Kat end the affair but Alfie struggles to trust Kat, especially when he finds a ring he thought had been pawned. Wanting to catch her out, Alfie says he will be away overnight and follows her to a nearby flat, demanding to know who Kat is seeing but she still refuses to name him. Alfie finds a letter to Mr Branning and confronts the three brothers, attacking Max when he sees that Kat is calling. Kat arrives and tells him that she is seeing Derek. Alfie throws Kat out again and Derek makes matters worse when he plays Alfie a message, asking to meet. Alfie hits Derek and tells him that he is barred before giving Derek his wedding ring to give to Kat. Alfie starts dating Roxy and asks her to move in and they declare their love for each other. Alfie helps Kat when she is questioned over stolen goods, but to prove to Roxy that he loves her, Alfie decides to get a divorce. He is determined to move on so proposes to Roxy and she accepts. Alfie discovers Ronnie is being released from prison but thinks that she will not return to Walford. He is angry to discover that she has and demands Roxy choose, him or Ronnie. The night before his wedding, Alfie visits Kat and they kiss passionately. Roxy realises that Alfie is still in love with Kat and orders him out of the church. He learns that Kat is going to Ibiza and races to the airport. They reconcile, moments before her flight is due to depart. He returns a month later and tells Kat that he has just bought a classic Ford Capri. Alfie receives a letter from the council, stating that they are due to be evicted from number 23 Albert Square. Alfie tells Kat that he has got a bank loan but considers starting a fire for the insurance money. Despite Mick Carter Danny Dyer advising him against it, he drops a lit cigarette into a paper-filled wastebasket. He rescues Kat regardless, receiving minor burns, but Kat is badly burnt. Alfie and the Moons are supported by the local community and stay with the Masood family. Alfie is praised as a hero, despite being suspected by local firefighter Tosh. He is relieved when the fire investigation officer Neil Wallace informs him that the insurers will probably pay for the damage to be repaired but Stacey finds the picture of Nana Moon and realizes Alfie started the fire and demands Alfie tell Kat but he refuses, creating a rift between them. Needing a place of their own, Alfie tries to persuade an estate agent to let him stay in number 43 for a couple of nights but the agent dismisses the idea. So he goes to the council for temporary accommodation and is told that all they can offer is one night in a bed and breakfast. They squat in a couple of places before Mick Carter invites them to stay at the Vic. After an emotional speech from Kat to the social housing manager, they are offered a council house in Hull but just as they are about to leave, Kat finds a photo of Nana. Wanting to know how it survived the fire, Alfie admits that he started it and tries to apologise, but Kat leaves him, moving in with Stacey and Lily.

Alfie Script - Dialogue Transcript Voila! I rarely allow anyone into my flat. I know, I know, I know. But it suits me just fine. To be honest, I rarely spend a night in my own bed anyway. On the flip side, however, even though the PC boyfriend sat next to you with his arm slung around your shoulder will deny it And he will deny it. And I can easily spice it up with I know what you are thinking. If you ooze masculinity, like some of us do, you have no reason to fear pink. Now, in the cologne department, most men overdo it. Americans practically spray it on with a crop-duster. Nothing above the neck, though I do like a little splash on Big Ben. You never know where the day may take you. New word for the day. The attempt to attract attention to oneself. Are you the little elf that left these mocha bonbons on my doorstep? You must have a secret admirer, Mrs Schnitman. You are such a doll, Alfie. Oh, on a diet? I like doing things for you, Alfie. Keys are in the usual spot. So not long ago, I packed up my bucket and headed west. Now, I must admit, I had a second motive. God, I love this city. I mean, every one of them, unique, special, like snowflakes. And with such a plethora I myself subscribe more to the European philosophy of life. My priorities leaning towards wine, women Although, women and women is always a fun option. I think this might just be my favourite position. He was such a great leader. Of course, JFK used the old bad-back excuse, but if you ask me, he knew it gave you maximum pleasure with minimum exertion. What is it about the back of a limo? Thousand one, thousand two You better hurry up. I mean, thank God there are gentlemen like me around to pick up the slack. Just look at her. Legs like a racehorse. I give her my highest grade: Where did we tell the old man we were going tonight? It would never occur to Phil that another man - would ever look twice at me. You should know by now they only come from me when least expected. So next Tuesday, same time, same place? In the meantime, I left you a little souvenir to remember me by. A compliment when least expected. What can I say? Happy as a pup with two tails. Never expect any thanks in this life. You know what I mean? Do I drag myself home to a cold flat, empty fridge, or nip across town for a hot bath, warm body, breakfast in bed? She had me going up and down for hours. That supposed to be funny? Because it is so very I hate you sometimes. You have a very ostentatious way of showing it. Yeah, I sure do. Can we hit pause? I just need a second to unwind. Oh, I nicked half a bottle of Stoli from the limo. How do you want yours, on the rocks? I just want my usual, Alfie. Where were you tonight? A little eye contact, please. We have something here, or am I just a glorified booty call? She wants me to commit. But is it ever enough? I told you how we men are. Too bad I love you. Did we wake you up? Now, lads, learn from my mistake. Never get involved with a single mum. See, they come with accessories, some of which can be Sights like that make you realize we all have an expiration date. Elegant Limousine and Chauffeur. This is where I make my reasonably honest living. Currently parked on one of those stepping stones is my best mate and future business partner, Marlon. And very recently, it dumped him. Come on, what was it this time? Begging, at her front door. So let me get this straight. You were at her front door, a. In the morning, begging and vomiting? Why is there no Stoli in car number two? I gotta watch this guy like a hawk. My boss and owner of this tragic enterprise. You miss bird shit. Check out the way he talks to the little woman. And now look at him. Lonette wanted ring, home, baby. Marlon wanted another months to make sure nothing better was coming his way. I fucked up egregiously. Put it this way, the show closed after one performance only. Come on, it would be less than discreet to tell you why. Hair on the arms. What are you talking about? Dude, the iron door has slammed shut, man. Some people are funny. Maybe it was time to stoke the home fires.
