

Chapter 1 : Los Angeles Times - We are currently unavailable in your region

Jeff Brown created the beloved character of Flat Stanley as a bedtime story for his racedaydvl.com has written other outrageous books about the Lambchop family, including Flat Stanley, Stanley and the Magic Lamp, Invisible Stanley, Stanley's Christmas Adventure, Stanley in Space, and Stanley, Flat Again!

As visitors, we got to play a part in this real-deal piece of living, if only for a weekend. And it was enchanting. Where to Stay Family owned and operated Embarcadero Inn and Suites was the perfect choice for our recent weekend visit. Its location right on the Embarcadero made it easy to just park the car and walk to most places throughout the charming coastal hamlet. Night-time lullabies come at no extra charge as we fell asleep to the distant sounds of barking sea lions and low mournful foghorns. Morro Rock is the most distinctive and recognizable landmark here. Like the otters that frolic in the Pacific bay waters, kayakers have some great opportunities to play in the bay too. Paddling through pristine waters, protected from the open ocean, the area is amazingly rich with marine and aviary life, so much so that binoculars are a must. More than diverse species of birds are located here, along with a heron rookery, harbor seals, sea lions and otters. Secluded sand dunes and hidden beaches with stunning ocean views are just some of the splendor seen along this adventurous journey. Guaranteed, no one comes off this tour without smiles on their faces. Hiking is one of the best ways to get spectacular panoramas of Morro Bay from on high. Upon reaching the summit of Black Hill, we were rewarded with a captivating vista of the bay, sand spits and famous Morro Rock. Fascinating interactive exhibits make this an educational but fun place for kids and adults alike. Knowledgeable museum docents regale visitors with history and stories of the bay. From a salt-water taffy store with flavors to a skateboard museum, eclectic vintage stores, shell and surf shops, Morro Bay is like a throwback to simpler beach-town days. Locals and visitors all prefer it that way. Chateau Margene is one of ten wineries located along the Pacific Wine Trail. The boutique winery established in showcases the best of its award-winning reds in a handsome tasting room located along the bay. No one leaves here, including us , without taking a bottle or two to enjoy at home. Locally-made cheeses and meats along with Grassy Bay oysters are featured on a menu that changes weekly. Their famous buttermilk pancakes have been made with the same secret recipe for 70 years. Fish is king in Morro Bay. The Galley has it all: A premium location overlooking the picturesque harbor, hand-picked seasonal ingredients provided by local farms, the freshest in-season seafood possible and impeccable service. The Galley believes premium seafood should be served naked, grilled, then served with the choice of light sauces on the side. Food presentation was impressive, portions were perfect and gourmet food restaurants should take note. It definitely goes down as one of our favorite California weekend escapes. For more information on California.

Chapter 2 : Home Page - Escape Room LA

Celebrate Halloween, Insomniac style! The Psycho Circus returns to NOS Events Center in Southern California for a two-day festival of electronic dance music that will shake you to your bones.

Tens of thousands of people fled a fast-moving wildfire Thursday in Northern California, some clutching babies and pets as they abandoned vehicles and struck out on foot ahead of the flames that forced the evacuation of an entire town and destroyed hundreds of structures. Some people who escaped a roaring wildfire in northern California spent the night at a church in the nearby city of Chico. Residents of the town of Paradise told harrowing tales Friday of a slow motion escape from a fire so close they could feel it inside their vehicles as they sat stuck in terrifying gridlock. They say it was like the entire town of 27, residents decide to leave at once. Fire surrounded the evacuation route and drivers panicked, some crashing and others abandoning their vehicles to try their luck on foot. Many of the rural residents have propane tanks on their property and the tanks were exploding. Resident Karen Auday says "they were going off like bombs. Authorities have issued an unhealthy air quality alert for parts of the San Francisco Bay Area as smoke from a massive wildfire drifts south, polluting the air. Officials say the thousands of structures in the town of Paradise, miles kilometers northeast of San Francisco, were destroyed by the blaze that has charred square miles square kilometers. At least 40, people have been displaced. The air in San Francisco Friday is hazy and the smell of smoke is overwhelming, prompting officials to declare air quality unhealthy. They are advising older people and children to move physical activities indoors. All people are encouraged to limit their outdoor activities. The city of Malibu has reduced the scope a mandatory evacuation order for the beachside community as a wildfire approaches. Malibu officials initially said the order issued early Friday applied to the entire city but have now defined an area that is approximately the western two-thirds of the community. The fire erupted Thursday northwest of Los Angeles and has been swept southward toward the ocean by strong Santa Ana winds. A fire official says a Northern California wildfire has put 15, homes and 2, commercial buildings at "imminent danger of burning. Koby Johns of the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection also said Friday that about 2, buildings have already been destroyed. He described those numbers as "very elastic. A California fire official says a blaze in Northern California nearly quadrupled in size overnight. Scott McLean of the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection says the fire near the town of Paradise has grown to nearly square miles square kilometers. A raging Southern California wildfire has triggered a mandatory evacuation order for the entire beachside city of Malibu. The fire broke out Thursday northwest of Los Angeles and roared southward, jumping the U. Malibu has about 13, residents and lies along 21 miles 34 kilometers of coast at the southern foot of the mountain range. The Los Angeles County Fire Department tweets that the fire is headed to the ocean, punctuating the message with the declaration: Officials in Northern California say a wildfire that devastated a town of 27, is moving north and have ordered people in two Sierra Nevada foothill communities to leave their homes. Bill Murphy says winds have calmed down in the valley but that there are "shifting, erratic winds" with speeds of up to 45 miles per hour 72 kph along ridge tops. The blaze that started Thursday morning east of Paradise and decimated the town also spread to the west. It reached the edge of Chico, a city of 90, people Thursday night. Murphy says firefighters were able to stop the fire at the edge of the city, where evacuation orders remained in place. Wildfires raging west of Los Angeles have forced school closures. Pepperdine University has canceled classes Friday at its Malibu and Calabasas campuses. The Calabasas campus is also evacuated. Malibu public schools are also closed. California Lutheran University had already canceled Friday classes due to the shooting. Cal Lutheran says its Thousand Oaks campus is not under evacuation orders but residential students have been put on standby. Two wildfires raging west of Los Angeles have force thousands of people to leave their homes. The Los Angeles and Ventura County fire departments say multiple buildings have been destroyed or damage, but exact numbers are not available early Friday. Both fires erupted Thursday afternoon and have grown rapidly. One fire that broke out near the northeast corner of Los Angeles has roared westward, jumped U. Evacuations have been ordered on the edges of the Northern California city of Chico, which is about 15 miles 24 kilometers from a town where thousands of buildings were destroyed by a fast-moving wildfire. Scott McLean of the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection says flames from the blaze that devastated the town of Paradise had reached the eastern side of Chico, a city of about 90, people. Authorities have said that at least two firefighters and multiple residents were injured in Paradise. McLean said Friday morning that he had no immediate update on injuries. He says strong winds made it difficult for aircraft to drop retardant effectively on the fire. A fast-moving wildfire that ravaged a Northern California town Thursday sent residents racing to escape on roads that turned into tunnels of fire as thick smoke darkened the daytime sky. A Cal Fire official said thousands of structures were destroyed. Harrowing tales of escape and heroic rescues emerged from Paradise, where the entire community of 27, was ordered to evacuate. Witnesses reported seeing homes, supermarkets, businesses, restaurants, schools and a retirement home up in flames. The fire was reported shortly after daybreak in a rural area. By nightfall, it had consumed more than 28 square miles and was raging out of control. Authorities say at least two firefighters and multiple residents were injured.

DOWNLOAD PDF ESCAPE TO CALIFORNIA

Chapter 3 : Escape to California by Josh Greenhut | Scholastic

California's wildfires have claimed 44 lives since last week. Countless others up and down the state narrowly escaped harm as they scrambled to safety. She documented her escape in videos.

Chapter 4 : Escape to California (Flat Stanley's Worldwide Adventures #12) by Josh Greenhut Book Review

People threw barstools through window to escape Thousand Oaks, California, bar during shooting. As a gunman opened fire at Borderline country-western dance bar in Thousand Oaks, Calif., Matt.

Chapter 5 : Escape to California's Best-Kept Secret | TravelPulse

A half dozen wild rabbits were seen huddling for safety against a rock wall in Thousand Oaks, California, as their forest home burns in the Woolsey wildfire.

Chapter 6 : Hooda Escape California

Earlier this year, wildfires raged through huge portions of California, claiming homes, businesses, and lives in the process. Those fires were eventually contained, but a new inferno which sparked.

Chapter 7 : Witnesses on "utter chaos" and escape from California bar shooting - CBS News

When the deadly Camp Fire started to close in on Feather River Hospital in the Northern California town of Paradise, nurses were forced to evacuate their critically sick patients without warning.

Chapter 8 : All Rooms | California State Escape

The so-called Camp Fire has already consumed over 20, acres in Northern California, forcing about 50, people to evacuate. But the fire has moved so quickly that some people have barely.

Chapter 9 : Escape to California by Jeff Brown

Escape to California has 85 ratings and 6 reviews. Alexandra Chauran said: Cute. It's nice that this book involved a girl in a wheelchair, but this one d.