

Chapter 1 : Best Soul Singers in Searchlight, NV

Beloved masters, the searchlight of the Soul flows in two directionsâ€”inward for illumination of the physical heart and mind, and outward to en-Light-en the upward spiraling path of humanity's release from the dense reality of the Third/Fourth Dimensions.

A Soul-infused personality automatically develops a burning desire to share their en-Lighten-ed higher truths with others. A trained, disciplined intelligence is required to clearly decipher and relay the wisdom teachings, and to proficiently and accurately transmit the higher Universal concepts. The awakening of Self from an unconscious state of Being is one of the most dramatic steps in the evolutionary process of Humankind. In order to become Self-conscious, you must become aware of what is happening in your personal world. You must sharpen your thinking process and learn to live in the moment, or the Still Point of the NOW as it is often called. In order to gain experience and wisdom, you must think about what you want to remember, what you wish to retain in your memory bank. We ask you to envision this horizontal pattern you have created with your sacred breath as your personal wheel of creation. Within these spheres will be the virtues, qualities and attributes of God consciousness you are seeking to incorporate, which will result in perfecting and magnifying your abilities to create anything you desire, as long as it is for the greatest good of all. During meditation or your quiet time, take twelve full Infinity Breaths, and after the twelfth one, pull in your abdomen and hold your breath for a moment or two. Now, as you take the next or thirteenth breath, see it flowing forth from your Solar Power Center Sacred Heart Core into the front of your body. The Infinity pattern is now in a horizontal configuration instead of vertical. On either the out-breath or the in-breathâ€”whichever one is most comfortable for youâ€”the first flat loop extends outward in front of your body, and on the next breath, the second loop extends from the back of your body, completing the Infinity sign. Breathe in and out six Infinity signs, and as you do so, they will automatically create a pattern of twelve loops that completely surround you like the petals of a flower. As you breathe out the last loop, again, hold your breath for a moment before returning to normal breathing. Then, breathe in and out consciously as you envision the Essence of Creation flowing forth from you out into the world. As you become more proficient as cocreators on the earthly plane, you will learn to constantly monitor your energy patterns and seek to upgrade them. You must strive for sustained harmony and refined godly expression. Your goal is to liberate the power of the Sacred Fire, which has lain dormant for many thousands of years so that you may direct and focus your energy into the areas of your life you wish to change. By establishing and constantly upgrading your Creator Wheel of Life, you are planting the Seeds of focused change, and you are supplying the Sacred Fire of Creation needed to manifest what you have envisioned. When you can do this proficiently, your personal world will become a wonderland, and you will become a beacon of Light for all to see. We have asked our messenger to give you an overview of the creation of your Personal Flower of Life Creator Wheel, as well as to help you understand what a wondrous gift it is to humanity. One petal was positioned outward, in front of us into the future, which we were creating with our thoughts, actions and deeds. The second petal was projected from our back into the frequency patterns of our past. The third and fourth petals extended outward from each side the same as if you were to extend your arms outward, thus forming the originally designed column of Light and shadowâ€”what has been called the Middle Path. We now live in a broad-spectrum world of duality and polarity influenced by our DNA, our ancestral lineage, and the astrological overlay we brought forward to experience in each lifetime. During this process, we added two more Infinity Patterns to our Flower of Life Creator Wheel, which made a total of eight petals. During this phase, our major Life Force energy radiated forth from the Solar Plexus. We began the process of slowly balancing and harmonizing the Seven Chakras of Soul Consciousness for this Solar System via the ancient teachings of the past, and from the new influx of teachings from the Higher Realms. As we learned to listen to the whisperings of our Soul Self, we were introduced to the Universal Laws of manifestation. Over time, we gradually began to develop our Self-awareness, and we eventually gained the wisdom to understand the importance of the Now Moment or the Power of the Still Point. This was a vital step in the awakening process so that we could, once again, begin to use the tools of manifestation as conscious cocreators. The Sacred Heart itself is located a little higher than the physical heart, and is positioned toward the back of the body, resting against our Rod of Light, which runs along the spinal column. These techniques can be used in a hap-hazard manner with minimal success; however, if we wish to make steady progress in our efforts to achieve Self-mastery, we should learn and integrate these techniques in the order they have been given. There is a reason for this, and it will become apparent as you master each technique and begin to see the positive results in your life. As you refine your resonance, you are gradually becoming multidimensional, which means that you are tapping into the frequency patterns of several dimensions at once. Via the lessons and instructions we have given you over the years, we are endeavoring to give you the knowledge needed to traverse the path of Ascension with ease and grace; however, you must assume the responsibility for your return to personal Self-mastery. We salute your bravery. You are dearly loved. Chapter 6 : Searchlight Life | Soul School | Helping You Find Your Light Within You

Anshul Bafna is a person who resonates so well to the young minds and their journey to lift them up spiritually. There is a great need of today's youth to make a balance of materialistic world and the spiritual application to it.

Wednesday, April 16, Last Pill I took my last blue pill this morning. Twice a day, morning and night, every day for the last 25 months. This morning was the last one. I "celebrated" this morning with a cup of coffee from Taco Bell - the fully leaded variety - and I have to confess that, yes, it will be nice to not have to take those pills any longer. All those pills were taken in an effort to convince my body to work the way that nature intended. To try and bring a brand new life into the world. Changed my coffee intake from regular, to half-caff, to decaf, and given up sodas entirely. All to try and bring a child with my DNA into the world. A "little piece of me. Because it also means the start of the end of a dream. There will be no "little me" in this world. That loss nearly killed us both. We could try again, but the doctor was honest, and the odds are very stacked against us. It took a miracle for us to get as far as we did with that one cycle, so the seeming almost certainty of doing another cycle is that it would only result in more loss, more pain, and still no baby in our arms. The tiny chance of success is not worth the overwhelming risk of failure. It really sucks for me, and it sucks for my wife too, because she wanted that "little piece of me" just as much as I did. After our loss last July, and our post-IVF follow-up in August, we took the next several months off to focus on our physical and emotional health. Neither of us is ready yet to quit and live childfree for the rest of our days. When I was first diagnosed infertile back in October of , my knee-jerk reaction to the idea of donor sperm was one of revulsion. I still kind of am. I was hurt a couple of months ago when my wife brought up the topic of donor sperm again, as in my mind, that door had been shut for good. She later regretted bringing it up again, and she apologized to me multiple times, but she had brought it up for good reasons. The door to donor sperm was shut in my mind, so the only door I still saw open was another cycle of IVF. We had talked about calling the clinic to schedule another appointment, but the thought of that conversation only ever filled me with dread. I had felt hopeful going into our first cycle. Knowing how it turned out Our odds with IVF were poor at best, but given our particular medical situation, IUI with donor sperm should have a better than good chance at success. Nothing guaranteed, of course, but life comes with no guarantees anyway. It was only the emotional obstacles that I was still dealing with. Because using donor sperm is inherently unfair - to both partners, but especially to the man. It means giving up the fight to beat his physical infertility; the disease wins. And that bothers me. A "daddy by donor" is only ever a step-father, or an adoptive father None of them good. How will he or she take it? What will friends and family think, when the kid inevitably lets it slip? One thing that happened in the wake of our failed IVF was that I finally found myself open to the idea of adoption. My wife did too. Then we discovered that more of our friends were adopted than we ever realized, and every one of them only had glowing things to say about their adoptive parents. Of course, if adoption is more palatable, then why not do adoption now? Or at least adopt a donor embryo? Donor embryo still carries with it the fear of losing those embryos should you fail. There will be no mistake, no "oops" baby. That child will be utterly, infinitely, and forever loved, and wanted. I was finally able to bring myself to begin looking at donor profiles last night, and I was actually getting excited. The two biggest things that I wanted to pass down to my own children were my red hair and my intelligence, and a quick search for red-haired Caucasian donors turned up several promising results. Because they will be mine. I want to be open with the child about where they came from, as early as they want to know. If that child ever asks me, "Daddy? Do you wish you were my bio dad? I love who you are. My desire in having kids was to be for them and do for them all the things that I never got, growing up without a dad. I never wanted to be here, forced to make this decision. But here I am. I celebrated that last pill this morning anyway.

Soul School is an essential part of Searchlight Life. Welcome to Searchlight Life, an initiative by the mindfulness coach and lifestyle guru, Anshul Bafna. Searchlight Life is an unique blend of therapy, self improvement and motivation.

A Soul-infused personality automatically develops a burning desire to share their en-Lighten-ed higher truths with others. A trained, disciplined intelligence is required to clearly decipher and relay the wisdom teachings, and to proficiently and accurately transmit the higher Universal concepts. The awakening of Self from an unconscious state of Being is one of the most dramatic steps in the evolutionary process of Humankind. In order to become Self-conscious, you must become aware of what is happening in your personal world. You must sharpen your thinking process and learn to live in the moment, or the Still Point of the NOW as it is often called. In order to gain experience and wisdom, you must think about what you want to remember, what you wish to retain in your memory bank. We ask you to envision this horizontal pattern you have created with your sacred breath as your personal wheel of creation. Within these spheres will be the virtues, qualities and attributes of God consciousness you are seeking to incorporate, which will result in perfecting and magnifying your abilities to create anything you desire, as long as it is for the greatest good of all. When you breathe in light, you are breathing adamantine particles into your sacred heart. When you breathe out unconditional love, the adamantine particles of pure god essence are empowered or ignited by your loving intention so that they may be used for the greatest good. You are the receptacle for these god particles and your love is the activator. During meditation or your quiet time, take twelve full Infinity Breaths, and after the twelfth one, pull in your abdomen and hold your breath for a moment or two. Now, as you take the next or thirteenth breath, see it flowing forth from your Solar Power Center Sacred Heart Core into the front of your body. The Infinity pattern is now in a horizontal configuration instead of vertical. On either the out-breath or the in-breath—whichever one is most comfortable for you—the first flat loop extends outward in front of your body, and on the next breath, the second loop extends from the back of your body, completing the Infinity sign. Breathe in and out six Infinity signs, and as you do so, they will automatically create a pattern of twelve loops that completely surround you like the petals of a flower. As you breathe out the last loop, again, hold your breath for a moment before returning to normal breathing. Then, breathe in and out consciously as you envision the Essence of Creation flowing forth from you out into the world. As you become more proficient as cocreators on the earthly plane, you will learn to constantly monitor your energy patterns and seek to upgrade them. You must strive for sustained harmony and refined godly expression. Your goal is to liberate the power of the Sacred Fire, which has lain dormant for many thousands of years so that you may direct and focus your energy into the areas of your life you wish to change. By establishing and constantly upgrading your Creator Wheel of Life, you are planting the Seeds of focused change, and you are supplying the Sacred Fire of Creation needed to manifest what you have envisioned. When you can do this proficiently, your personal world will become a wonderland, and you will become a beacon of Light for all to see. We have asked our messenger to give you an overview of the creation of your Personal Flower of Life Creator Wheel, as well as to help you understand what a wondrous gift it is to humanity. One petal was positioned outward, in front of us into the future, which we were creating with our thoughts, actions and deeds. The second petal was projected from our back into the frequency patterns of our past. The third and fourth petals extended outward from each side the same as if you were to extend your arms outward, thus forming the originally designed column of Light and shadow—what has been called the Middle Path. We now live in a broad-spectrum world of duality and polarity influenced by our DNA, our ancestral lineage, and the astrological overlay we brought forward to experience in each lifetime. During this process, we added two more Infinity Patterns to our Flower of Life Creator Wheel, which made a total of eight petals. During this phase, our major Life Force energy radiated forth from the Solar Plexus. We began the process of slowly balancing and harmonizing the Seven Chakras of Soul Consciousness for this Solar System via the ancient teachings of the past, and from the new influx of teachings from the Higher Realms. As we learned to listen to the whisperings of our Soul Self, we were introduced to the Universal Laws of manifestation. Over time, we gradually began to develop our Self-awareness, and we eventually gained the wisdom to understand the importance of the Now Moment or the Power of the Still Point. This was a vital step in the awakening process so that we could, once again, begin to use the tools of manifestation as conscious cocreators. The Sacred Heart itself is located a little higher than the physical heart, and is positioned toward the back of the body, resting against our Rod of Light, which runs along the spinal column. These techniques can be used in a hap-hazard manner with minimal success; however, if we wish to make steady progress in our efforts to achieve Self-mastery, we should learn and integrate these techniques in the order they have been given. There is a reason for this, and it will become apparent as you master each technique and begin to see the positive results in your life. As you refine your resonance, you are gradually becoming multidimensional, which means that you are tapping into the frequency patterns of several dimensions at once. Via the lessons and instructions we have given you over the years, we are endeavoring to give you the knowledge needed to traverse the path of Ascension with ease and grace; however, you must assume the responsibility for your return to personal Self-mastery. We salute your bravery. You are dearly loved. I AM Archangel Michael. However, I claim the universal copyright for this article in the name of Archangel Michael. The news of the demise of the indomitable CIMS Martin came as a great shock to me and it was so easy for tears to well up in my eyes. Mr Christian Ivor Martin or 'CIMS' as he was affectionately called will always be remembered juxtaposed with the quest for the development of St Vincent and the.

A Soul-infused personality automatically develops a burning desire to share their en-Lighten-ed higher truths with others. A trained, disciplined intelligence is required to clearly decipher and relay the wisdom teachings, and to proficiently and accurately transmit the higher Universal concepts. The awakening of Self from an unconscious state of Being is one of the most dramatic steps in the evolutionary process of Humankind. In order to become Self-conscious, you must become aware of what is happening in your personal world. You must sharpen your thinking process and learn to live in the moment, or the Still Point of the NOW as it is often called. In order to gain experience and wisdom, you must think about what you want to remember, what you wish to retain in your memory bank. Within these spheres will be the virtues, qualities and attributes of God consciousness you are seeking to incorporate, which will result in perfecting and magnifying your abilities to create anything you desire, as long as it is for the greatest good of all. During meditation or your quiet time, take twelve full Infinity Breaths, and after the twelfth one, pull in your abdomen and hold your breath for a moment or two. Now, as you take the next or thirteenth breath, see it flowing forth from your Solar Power Center Sacred Heart Core into the front of your body. The Infinity pattern is now in a horizontal configuration instead of vertical. On either the out-breath or the in-breath whichever one is most comfortable for you the first flat loop extends outward in front of your body, and on the next breath, the second loop extends from the back of your body, completing the Infinity sign. Breathe in and out six Infinity signs, and as you do so, they will automatically create a pattern of twelve loops that completely surround you like the petals of a flower. As you breathe out the last loop, again, hold your breath for a moment before returning to normal breathing. Then, breathe in and out consciously as you envision the Essence of Creation flowing forth from you out into the world. As you become more proficient as co-creators on the earthly plane, you will learn to constantly monitor your energy patterns and seek to upgrade them.
