It all starts with a dream Most of the things that we see around us every day are the products of people's dreams. It was not so long ago that airplanes did not exist, but there were many people dreaming of creating a marvelous machine that would allow humans to fly.

Everything Starts as a Dream, but Requires Action by Remez Sasson Everything starts as a dream, a thought, a mental image, but this is just the first step. If you stay there, you will enjoy your dream, but one day you will see that you are standing still, like a person watching a beautiful and inspiring movie, over and over again, but not going out to the real world to create and live what he or she has seen in the movie. Are you waiting for some miracle to change your life? Sometimes, miracles do happen, but why not make the miracles happen? You can create miracles, when you know what you want, adopt a positive attitude, and take action. Help the miracle happen, by participating in its creation, by planning, visualizing, expecting, and acting. When you contribute to making things happen, they eventually happen, sometimes quite fast, and sometimes, gradually, over a period of time. To achieve a dream you need to take action. The people who succeed are those that think, plan, read, and look around them to see open doors. In order to see the open doors you need motivation and faith in yourself. This has to do with every area of life, including relationships, work, material success, self-improvement, meditation and spiritual growth. Everything starts as a dream, but requires action. Even miracles require some action on your part. Do you want to make a new start? Do you want to write the book you have always wanted to write? Do you want to learn a new language? Do you want to have a loving relationship? Do you want to start a business? Do you want to go on the trip you have always dreamed about? Do you want to learn to meditate? Everything starts as a dream, but requires action for making it a reality. Dream, but also visualize and affirm. In all these steps, motivation, passion, and perseverance are of vital importance. Visualize it, affirm that it is already here, and prepare yourself for it, so that when it appears, you recognize it, and take advantage of it. Affirmations - Words with Power Motivating and inspiring affirmations for every day and for every purpose, with all the guidance you need to make them work. This Fire Safety PIF from the UK has the father who is constantly tries to prevent fire hazards in the house as a evil-sounding witch voice continuously taunts him throughout, until the curtain catches fire from a heater. The ending of the PIF shows the father waking up from a nightmare and begins to rethink his decision of smoking a cigarette. Card Games Hecatomb had a literal "It Was Only A Dream" card which can eliminate practically any card your opponent has out, essentially making them have never happened. Comedy Comedian Emo Phillips inverts this trope when he talks about a dream he had. He describes a long series of really bizarre, Emo-Phillipian events that ends with him getting knocked unconscious. So much so that it was common to include the blurb "Not a dream! Not an imaginary story! Cosmic Adventures in the 8th Grade: In the beginning of chapter 2, Supergirl flies over her school. All of sudden all begin calling her "Linda Lee". She freaks out and wonders why everybody knows her Secret Identity before waking up. Bizarrogirl opens up with a battle between Supergirl and Superwoman. It looks like a flashback narrating the final fight between both super-beings until the legions of undead make clear Kara is having a nightmare. RIP storyline is among other things an attempt to bring the wackier Silver Age adventures of the Dark Knight in-canon by explaining them as hallucinations caused by sensory deprivation experiments. An original quote from one of those Silver-Age tales is a prominent part of the storyline and very typical of the trope: For in my hand, I hold the Bat-Radia! Tom Strong issues 29 and 30 had the eponymous hero awoken from his superheroic life into a gray world with no wonder or adventure where he was just a factory worker with a case of bad self-esteem. Then the clues mount that he really is a superhero - only to discover that he was a failed military experiment and all of his memories of a heroic life were delusions. But at the last moment, he breaks out of the hallucination - back into the superheroic world where the Big Bad of the story had been forcing him to hallucinate. A cynical person might just say that he was unable to cope with the truth and retreated into his dream-world Two Spawn issues written by Neil Gaiman and Grant Morrison has Spawn dying accidentally after a fight with an angel warrior, and goes to a special level of Hell, where he finds all Marvel Comics and DC Comics superheroes imprisoned, and with help of Superman , who gave him his power, he sets them all free. Spawn has a bad dream last days. For example, issue 5 starts with Woody, Quantum, and Amy working together as a tightly-coordinated counter-terrorism team to stop a criminal called Othello. Then he wakes up. Fan uproar eventually convinced the writers of the newspaper comic to retcon that change, and they did that by saying it was all just a dream. Now if only they could do the same with the main comic Subverted in issue 5 of Fish Police. Issue 10 is revealed at the end to primarily have been a fever dream. Disney Ducks Comic Universe: A dream ending was hastily written into the Barks story "The Firebug" where Donald becomes a Pyromaniac but is pardoned when he catches a more dangerous person who was starting similar fires. This is the conclusion that Donald comes to at the end of The Duck Who Never Was, after wishing that he was never born and having a genie Who happens to live in an urn instead of the typical vase he met in the Duckburg Museum grant said wish. This is partially revisited in the later story Treasury of Croesus. When Donald, along with his uncle and nephews, once again visits the museum he sees the same urn from the previous story and is then the only one to notice the lid of the urn being lifted up by a hand from inside the urn, which looks to be in greeting to Donald. In retrospect, the events being a dream make sense, as the story features Scrooge being fairly carefree with spending his money to beat Donald. Grant Morrison ends his run of Animal Man by retconning it into a dream as a favor to the title character. Little Nemo in Slumberland ends every strip with Nemo waking up in bed. There were continuous storylines despite this. And when Nemo gets into trouble it does not feel as safe as a dream. Drabble pulled this twice, then subverted it hilariously. The first time, Ralph dreams that his job as a mall cop is more like Batman. The second time, Norman goes to a piercing salon with Wendy and ends up with multiple ear, nose, and other rings. The third time, Norman and Wendy run off to Vegas and get married on a dare. Norman is about to invoke this trope when the next panel reveals the cartoonist has already used up his chances to use it. The plot gets resolved another way. While unconscious, Opus dreams about Lola leaving him twenty years later with twenty-three tube-grown kids. At another point, Opus ends up wandering lost and semi-delirious in the desert. He announces how happy he is it was all just a dream. Milo then says "No. This is the dream. Dream-Peter then points out that Mulder and Scully are TV characters " and therefore only investigate incidents appropriate for primetime shows. Turning into a teenage girl is too horrific. Calvin and Hobbes has the memorable "A Letter From Santa" Sunday strip, where Calvin gets a letter from Santa Claus encouraging him to be as bratty as he likes and that good kids actually nauseate Santa. At breakfast, Calvin mutters to himself "This is going to be a bad day. The story ends with B. There have been lots of fics inspired by Cupcakes in which the original fic was either a nightmare or a recurring nightmare for one of the two characters. Not all had a necessarily better ending for either. Much of chapter 66 is Shinji having a dream really more of a nightmare about Zeruel slaughtering everyone. Season 4 is just a dream, made by Arael. Superwomen of Eva 2: Lone Heir of Krypton: Since Asuka has the upper hand, Misato talks her into a threesome. Big Damn Hero , where Kanae was having a recurrent dream with parts It was until after she kissed Kyon that she realized she was awake. Appears in the fic, Rainbow in the Dark , where Rainbow Dash has an erotic encounter, after which she wakes up, building up the UST to even higher levels. The short story is on deviantART. New Voyages episode "To Serve All My Days", involving a delayed effect of Rapid Aging that afflicts Chekov to the point where he may have died, in the final scene following the closing credits suggests that most of the whole episode was just a dream he had. In the Star Trek: The Original Series fanfic Memories Born of Fire , Spock has a nightmare about what would have happened if Kirk had not survived the kal-i-fee. Equestria is a My Little Pony: Friendship Is Magic fan fiction that suggests that the eponymous world is actually the elaborate fantasy world that was to be the setting of a series of stories planned by a woman who was emotionally abused by her mother. She never got around to writing it and the emotional abuse that she suffered drove her into her dream world.. Chapter 7 of Dalton starts out like this. The readers are aware the entire time that it is a dream. In The Detective and the Diplomat , Sherlock Holmes is trapped in Ankh-Morpork and would rather believe that everything he is experiencing there " from a demonstration of magic to a talking dog " is actually a fever-dream. In chapter 8 of Weightless , Shepard dreamed of Garrus tied up and interrogated her to make her spill out her feelings which she was trying to keep to herself due to several reasons. She was woken up by the real Garrus and suddenly hit him in the face. After that, things got worse. And by the last person you would expect it to be. Discussed in Dirty Sympathy when Apollo wonders whether the events of the story are actually happening, whether Klavier is actually real and if he is dreaming the whole thing to comfort himself. Klavier is all too quick to reassure him. In Midnight Savior , it begins with Kim on Lorwardia in chains, being dragged to the gallows to be executed by beheading. The moment the blade falls, she wakes up screaming. After waking up, she could almost feel the heat and dirt from the nightmare. She dreamt about how far Ron was willing to go to avenge Kim when she was taken to Lorwardia during "Graduation" to be beheaded and mounted as a trophy. Also the state Earth has become , since after they executed Kim, the Lorwardians forced the humans to tribute them by sending 15 teenage girls to be beheaded , have their heads mounted, and feasts on their headless bodies. In Vengeance from the Grave Harry, annoyed that his friends and colleagues are trying to play with his emotions, subjects them to an eight hour long forced dream about what the next eight years of their lives would be like if he got fed up and left. Aiko is rather traumatized when her painkillers wear off enough for her to realize that being kidnapped by Sasori is not a fever dream. Then Meg wakes up and nothing has changed. Brian is not amused.

Date To dream that you are on a date represents your need for self-discovery and self-awareness. You are getting to know some hidden aspects of yourself and acknowledging your hidden talents. Alternatively, it may reflect your anxieties about dating or finding acceptance. The dream may also be a "rehearsal" for an actual date you have. It serves to overcome anxieties you may have. To dream that you are dating two people at the same time signifies passion in your own personal relationship. This dream does not necessarily mean that you want to stray from your significant other. It may also indicate some anxiety on some major change in the relationship. To dream of a date, as in a particular, month, day and year represents the passing of time and past events. The dream may also be a reminder of a special event, appointment or important date in your waking life. Also consider the significance of the numbers in the date. Dates To see plump ripe dates growing on a tree represents happiness and joy. Take some time to relax and find peace of mind. The dream may also be a metaphor for a date that you are going on or an important date or appointment that you have to keep. To dream that you are eating dates signify distress. You are never happy with what you have and are always trying to acquiring more material things. Dating Show To watch or dream that you are on a dating show implies that you are looking to be in a relationship, but are looking in all the wrong places. Or perhaps you feel that your love life is being scrutinized or being put on display. Consider the name of the dating show and how it relates to your current relationship views or status. Daughter To see your daughter in your dream reflects your ideal or your better self. Alternatively, the dream may represent your waking relationship with your daughter and the qualities that she projects. If you do not have a daughter, then the dream symbolizes the feminine aspect within yourself. Daughter-In-Law To see your daughter-in-law in your dream suggests that an unexpected incident will either provide you with joy or distress, depending on her attitude. Dawn To see the dawn in your dream signifies rejuvenation, enlightenment, and vitality. You are emerging out from a new stage in life and have a new understanding or a new start in life. You are seeing things clearly. To dream of a gloomy or cloudy day signifies sadness. If you dream of a particular day, then you may need to look closely at that day for any significance. Consider the number associated with that day. A certain date could highlight a special anniversary, appointment or occasion. To dream of the passing of a day indicates that you need to manage your time better and plot out your goals in a more deliberate manner. Your outlook is looking good. Daycare To dream that you are at a daycare indicates that you want to be taken care of and not have to worry about anything else. Consider the condition of the daycare for additional significance. If the daycare is chaotic, dirty and unorganized, then it parallels how you see the issues in your life. If the daycare is calm and cheery, then it suggests that you have a handle over the problems in your life. Dead To see or talk to the dead in your dream forewarns that you are being influenced by negative people and are hanging around the wrong crowd. This dream may also be a way for you to resolve your feelings with those who have passed on. Alternatively, the dream symbolizes material loss. If you dream of a person who has died a long time ago, then it suggests that a current situation or relationship in your life resembles the quality of that deceased person. The dream may depict how you need to let this situation or relationship die and end it. If you dream of someone who has recently passed away, then it means that their death is still freshly in your mind. Dreams can also be a way for you to keep loved ones who have past away alive and still be in some aspect of your life. You are still trying to grasp the notion that he or she is really gone. If the dead is trying to get you to go somewhere with him or her, then it signifies that you are trying to understand their death. To see and talk with your dead parents in your dream is a way of keeping them alive. It is also a way of coping with the loss. You are using your dream as a last opportunity to say your final good-byes to them. To see your dead sibling, relative, or friend alive in your dream indicates that you miss them and are trying to relive your old experiences you had with them. In trying to keep up with the pace of your daily waking life, your dreams may serve as your only outlet in coping and coming to terms with the loss of a loved one. To dream of your dead child is a way for you to keep your child alive through your dreams. For a parent to lose a child is extremely difficult. Such dreams occur because you still cannot accept or understand how or why your child was taken from you so soon. Dreaming of a dead person who passes away again in your dream means that you wished they were still around to experience and share certain aspects of your life with you. Such dreams are more likely to occur during happy times or during important milestones in your life. You must find another way to achieve your goals because the current path is not working out. Alternatively, the dream may be telling you that you are going nowhere. Perhaps, the dream is symbolic of a dead end job or a dead end relationship. You need to reevaluate your options. Deadline To dream of a deadline signifies your preoccupation with time. You feel that time is running out for you and that you will not be able to meet your goals by a set time. You need to learn to prioritize and balance aspects of your life. Deaf If you are not deaf in real life and dream that you are deaf, then it suggests that you are feeling secluded from the world. You may be closing yourself off from new experiences or shutting yourself out. Alternatively, the dream could indicate that your defenses are up. There is something that you are refusing to hear. Perhaps you have problems taking criticism. The dream could just mean that you are in need of some peace and quiet. To dream that someone else is deaf suggests that someone close to you is withdrawn. Death To dream about the death of a loved one suggests that you are lacking a certain aspect or quality that the loved one embodies. Ask yourself what makes this person special or what you like about them. It is that very quality that you are lacking in your own relationship or circumstances. Alternatively, the dream indicates that whatever that person represents has no part in your own life anymore. In particular, to dream about the death of your living parents indicates that you are undergoing a significant change in your waking life. Your relationship with your parents has evolved into a new realm. If you dream about the death of a child, then it implies that you need to let go of your immaturity and start being more serious. As your child reaches certain milestones and grows into an adult, dreaming of their death may be symbolic of their own self-discovery, transition and transformation into a new stage of life. To dream that you are faking your own death suggests that you are looking for a new start. You need some change in your life. If you dream that your significant other is faking their own death, then the dream represents something new that you are learning about them. Or it may mean that they are not who you thought they were. To have a near death experience in your dream implies that you are experience a relapse of sorts. You are reverting back to your old habits and ways. Alternatively, the dream indicates that you are being given a second chance or second try at something. To dream that you die in your dream symbolizes inner changes, transformation, self-discovery and positive development that is happening within you or your life. You are undergoing a transitional phase and are becoming more enlightened or spiritual. Although such a dream may bring about feelings of fear and anxiety, it is no cause for alarm as it is often considered a positive symbol. Dreams of experiencing your own death usually means that big changes are ahead for you. You are moving on to new beginnings and leaving the past behind. These changes does not necessarily imply a negative turn of events. Metaphorically, dying can be seen as an end or a termination to your old ways and habits. So, dying does not always mean a physical death, but an ending of something. If you dream that someone is telling you that you are going die, then it implies that you are being pressured to make an important change or choice. You are about to embark on some new life adventure. Perhaps there was some unfinished issue that is still left lingering long after their death. You wished you had a little more time with them. On a negative note, to dream that you die may represent involvement in deeply painful relationships or unhealthy, destructive behaviors. You may feeling depressed or feel strangled by a situation or person in your waking life. Perhaps your mind is preoccupied with someone who is terminally ill or dying.

Memories about events you had not thought about in a long time, what you have been through and where you have come from, a history of your successes, if you will. And it begins with a dream! For me, it all started with the hit television soap opera Dallas. Friday nights were my favorite. I was hooked on the show, and in such awe of the glamorous clothes and the big hair the women wore, their lifestyle, the tall glass buildings, just about everything that Dallas stood for, and I visualized moving there one day. I was living in Bangkok at the time running a tailoring business at a prestigious hotel. Dallas was my inspiration. I studied the extravagant fashion shown on the screen, and would sketch for hours. It helped that I grew up around fine fabrics and laces, my family being the largest purveyors of fine lace in Thailand. Aside from my love of books, I had always lived and breathed fashion. Among the affluent clientele I catered to in my tailoring salon, was a beautiful lady from San Antonio who visited me often. I would help her with her wardrobe and design extravagant evening wear and suits for her to wear. During one of her visits in , she asked if I would support her charity event with my designs. I was excited beyond words could express, and before I knew it I was on a flight to San Antonio with my 52 piece ready-to-wear collection. As I was preparing the collection and planning the order in which each outfit would appear, I thought it would be wonderful to have a wedding dress as the finale of the show. So I whipped up a blush colored Thai Silk, hand-embroidered dress, and hand beaded it with Swarovski crystals. Little did I know that the one dress that I had designed as an afterthought would forever change my life. The show was a huge success, but more importantly the roar that sounded when the finale dress came out on the runway was deafening! The Universe works in mysterious ways. For someone who had no design background, and was clueless about wedding dresses, it was a daunting thought. My heart was beating so fast! Dallas??? This was a dream come true. I hesitated only for a brief second, wondering if I had the talent, and more importantly, the money and the resources to honor such a huge commitment. That was 32 years ago. Had I not said yes then St. Pucchi would not have been born. And I would not be celebrating its success today! What is your dream? What is it that you desire for yourself?
