

Chapter 1 : Beijing | End Times Prophecy Report

BEIJING/SEOUL - China said on Wednesday North Korean leader Kim Jong Un pledged to denuclearize the Korean peninsula during an historic meeting in Beijing with President Xi Jinping, who promised China would uphold its friendship with its isolated neighbor.

See Article History Alternative Titles: This great upheaval, in which more than 20,, people are said to have been killed, drastically altered the course of modern Chinese history. Early life Hong was the youngest son of four children in a poor but proud Hakka family. The Hakkas were an industrious people who had migrated into South China from the north several centuries earlier and still retained their original customs. At an early age, Hong showed signs of great intelligence; his entire village sponsored him in his studies, hoping that he would eventually pass the Confucian civil service examination, enter the government bureaucracy , and bring wealth and honour to his family and friends. Hong took the government examination for the first time in and failed to obtain even the lowest official degree, an outcome not surprising in view of the great number of candidates competing. He took the test several times, each time traveling to the provincial capital in Guangzhou Canton , which was also the centre for trade with the West. When he failed the exam for the third time in , the strain was more than he could bear. He suffered an emotional collapse. During a delirium that lasted several days, he imagined himself to be in the presence of a venerable old man with a golden beard. The old man complained that the world was overrun by evil demons, and he gave Hong a sword and seal to use in eradicating the bad spirits. Hong also believed himself to have encountered a middle-aged man who aided and instructed him in the extermination of demons. In he took the examination for the fourth and last time, but again he failed. Written by a Chinese missionary, the work, which explained the basic elements of Christianity, had been given to Hong on his visit to Guangzhou in When Li brought it to his attention, Hong reexamined the work and suddenly discovered the explanation for his visions. He realized that during his illness he had been transported to heaven. The old man he had spoken with was God, and the middle-aged man was Jesus Christ. Hong further understood that he was the second son of God, sent to save China. In reading the portions of the Bible contained in the Quanshi liangyan, Hong often translated the pronouns I, we, you, and he as referring to himself, as if the book had been written for him. He baptized himself, prayed to God, and from then on considered himself a Christian. Hong began to propagate the new doctrine among his friends and relatives. One of his most important converts was his schoolmate Feng Yunshan. In Hong lost his job because he had destroyed the tablets to Confucius in the village school where he was teaching, and Feng accompanied him on a preaching trip to neighbouring Guangxi province. In Hong went to Guangzhou to study Christianity with the Rev. Roberts, an American missionary. The two months he spent with Roberts marked his sole formal training in the doctrines of Christianity; his writings show little understanding of concepts alien to Chinese culture. New Testament ideas of humility and kindness are ignored, as are the Christian ideas of original sin and redemption. Rather, Hong stressed a wrathful Old Testament God, one who was to be worshipped and obeyed. He demanded the abolition of evil practices such as opium smoking, gambling, and prostitution and promised an ultimate reward to those who followed the teachings of the Lord. Rather than the traditional Chinese ethnocentrism, he postulated a world of many nations, all of them equal under God. Moreover, he was iconoclastic in his attitude toward the Chinese culture of his day, labeling it the work of evil demons and insisting that all symbols of it be destroyed. Conditions in the countryside were deplorable, and sentiment ran high against the Qing dynasty rulers. As a result, Hong and Feng began to plot the rebellion that finally began in July As the rebels passed through the countryside, whole towns and villages joined them. They grew from a ragged band of a few thousand to a fanatical but highly disciplined army of more than a million, divided into separate divisions of men and women soldiers. Men and women were considered equal by the Taipings but were allowed no contact with one anotherâ€”even married couples were forbidden sexual intercourse. A northern expedition to capture the Qing capital at Beijing failed, but Taiping troops scored great victories in other places. It was Yang who organized the new Taiping state and mapped the strategy of the Taiping armies. Eventually Yang began to chastise Hong and to usurp his prerogatives as supreme leader. In one of his trances,

Yang claimed that the Lord demanded Hong be whipped for kicking one of his concubines although Taiping followers were allowed no sexual relations with members of the opposite sex, Taiping leaders maintained enormous harems. Wei in turn became haughty, and Hong had him slain as well. After this, Hong ignored his ablest followers and entrusted affairs of state to his incompetent elder brothers. He withdrew from all government matters for long periods, spending his time with his harem or in religious speculation. He refused, stating that he trusted in divine guidance. He even declined to lay in supplies in case of a siege because he was sure that God would provide. On June 1, , Hong, despairing after a lingering illness, committed suicide. His young son succeeded him on the throne. The city finally fell on July 19, , and government troops initiated a terrible slaughter in which more than , people were said to have been killed. Sporadic Taiping resistance continued in other parts of the country until

Church of God News. And while some of the specifics may need clarification especially as some conflict other sources, it is true the most of the Asians are descended from Japheth. There are Chinese prophecies dating from the Tang Dynasty June 18, 1842 – June 4, 1843, that seems to support the concept of pan-Asian cooperation although it only mentions three nations after someone who is apparently not really trustworthy rises up in the West: Beautiful people come from the West. AuthorHouse, Bloomington IN, 2003, p. All negative forces are subservient – China now has a saint. Even if he is not that great a hero ibid, p. The beautiful people may be the Beast and his false prophet which apparently will impress peoples in places including Asia. The "saint" will likely be "the false prophet," the final Antichrist see also Some Doctrines of Antichrist. Since there may have been an actual Christian witness to China during the time these prophecies was penned see China, Its Biblical Past and Future, Part 2: There are prophecies that suggest the Russians will be influenced by apparitions claiming to be Mary: Mary apparition in Fatima 20th century: But in the end my Immaculate Heart shall triumph. The Holy Father will consecrate Russia to me, she will be converted, and a certain period of peace will be in the world Connor, Edward. The Thunder of Justice. Maxkol Communications, Sterling VA, 2000, p. The Bible shows the universal acceptance though it will be temporary of a false leader Revelation Apparitions claiming to be Mary may be part of the lying wonders 2 Thessalonians 2: When people in Asia and elsewhere see the Beast power they will marvel: And those who dwell on the earth will marvel, whose names are not written in the Book of Life from the foundation of the world, when they see the beast that was, and is not, and yet is Revelation They will marvel because of the great wealth, because they did not think Europe would gain such prominence, and because its leadership will have performed various signs and wonders. Also, the timing may coincide with beliefs in Hinduism and other religions about a new "golden age", hence this may temporarily cause the more cautious to accept the Beast. They may also marvel because supporting the Beast may give them additional wealth and perhaps additional land. There is a modern Russian prophecy that suggests that Russia will end up Alaska and parts of Asia will end up with some of the Western portions of the USA for details, see Russia: Its Origins and Prophesied Future. There is an ancient Chinese prophecy that might hint that it involves Australia and New Zealand and Europe. Population mouth takes territories south of the Yangtze river. The capital is moved again. The two divide up the territories, of which each maintains and defends Pui-Hua R. This may be related to a deal that perhaps the Chinese will make in the future with Europe, as opposed to military conquest. Furthermore, notice the following Catholic prophecy: American Catholic Prophecy c. The yellow hordes of the Rising Sun and the middle kingdom will pour out their wrath on the people of the island kingdom which had gathered riches through trade Dupont, Catholic Prophecies, p. Both China and Japan have longed for more land and the proximity of the island nations of Australia and New Zealand to the Asian powers seems to make this a likely scenario. The Bible warns of a time when certain lands will be divided: The "he" is the European King of the North. The strongest fortresses are possessed by the USA and its Anglo-descended allies. There are also a few verses in Lamentations that strongly support the idea that vs. It is also the same word used in Ezekiel 5: And it will happen whether or not some demonic entity influenced an ancient Chinese predictor or Marian apparitions. India and other Asian nations may also be involved Isaiah Russia too Ezekiel Hindu and Catholic Prophecies Unknowingly, a Hindu writer in India is actually helping set the stage for people around the world to accept the authority of a warring dictator who is likely to arise within the next decade: From the position of planetary movements and astrological calculations The 12th year of 21st century totals number

It is the theory of mass karma that governs the destiny of every living being. WTC affair was just a preamble to the main show. Let us all prepare ourselves and wait for End of the World Also note the following where the Bible warns against a powerful deceiving leader arising: And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord will consume with the breath of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming. The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders, and with all unrighteous deception among those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved 2 Thessalonians 2: Because of these actions signs and wonders, that many will consider to be miracles from God , people throughout the world, including in Asia will temporarily to some degree worship a false leader: And I saw a beast rising up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his horns ten crowns, and on his heads a blasphemous name. The dragon gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. And all the world marveled and followed the beast. Who is able to make war with him? And authority was given him over every tribe, tongue, and nation. However, if you are an Asian, you personally do not have to be deceived. Hopefully, by reading this article you will receive the proper information to help prevent you from accepting the false religion that will to a degree likely to be forced upon your nation. Perhaps it should be mentioned that the Catholics of Rome have a prophecies that those all over the world, and specifically those in Russia and China, as well as elsewhere in Asia probably including India and Japan, etc. Anna-Maria Taigi 19th century. Whole nations will come back to the Church and the face of the earth will be renewed. Before During and After Antichrist. A regeneration of Faith will appear in Asia Culleton, R. The Prophets and Our Times. Scher, Bishop of Monterey-Fresno, November 15, Such is the glorious triumph reserved for the Catholic Church; she shall be praised, honored and esteemed by all men. After the three days of darkness, St. Paul, having come down from Heaven, will preach in the whole world and designate a new Pope. A great light will flash from their bodies and will settle upon the cardinal who is to become Pope. Christianity, then, will spread throughout the world. He is the Holy Pontiff, chosen by God to withstand the storm. At the end, he will have the gift of miracles, and his name shall be praised over the whole earth. Whole nations will adhere to the teachings of the Catholic Church. The Orient, courageously and successfully explored by the Portuguese, is coveted by many today for its lucrative trade. We, however, have a more noble purpose in mind To take care, therefore, of the preservation and propagation of the Catholic religion among the Hindus, a Hindu clergy has to be formed that could administer the sacraments and govern the Christian people properly, no matter how menacing the times Be sure that the role of Christianity in such remote regions becomes well known. But this acceptance of the "Catholic" leaders will not last.

Young said of this verse, Thus, both the first and last members of the verse express the thought of great distance, whereas the two middle members point to specific directions. In any attempt to identify the land of Sinim we must look for a place far from Palestine. An ancient interpretation [identifies] it with China Edward J. Eerdmans Publishing Company, , volume 3, p. Heinrich Gesenius , in his Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon said, The context requires that this must be a very remote country [from Judah]â€¦I understand it to be the land of the Seres of Chinese, Sinenses; this very ancient and celebrated nation was known by the Arabians and Syriansâ€¦and might be known by a Hebrew writer living at Babylonâ€¦at what period this name was given to the Chinese, by the other nations of Asia, and what its origins may be, do not plainly appear Gesenius, Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon, Baker Book House, reprint, pp. This was the position of the German scholars C. James Hudson Taylor also held this view. Why is that important to us today? Why should we be concerned that the ancient word for China appears in the prophecy given by Isaiah? I will give you three reasons from the Bible. First, the Chinese will receive the Redeemer of Israel. Look at Isaiah Please stand and read it aloud. You may be seated. Please turn to Isaiah Stand and read it aloud. Now read verse 5 aloud. Please turn to Luke Third, the Chinese will come to Christ in the end-times. I believe that Luke Not until after the Western missionaries were forced out of China by the Communists in When the Western missionaries left China there were only about one million Chinese Christians there. Today it is estimated that there are now between 70 and 90 million Christians in China. Cagan, who is a professional statistician, estimates that there are over conversions to Christ every hour, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, in China. That is why I urge you to come to Christ! He is the Saviour of all mankind! Whether you are Chinese, or from another ethnic group, Jesus came to die on the Cross â€” to pay the penalty for your sin. Come to Christ by faith and His Blood will wash away your sin and you will be saved from sin, Hell and the grave! Make sure that you are one of those who "come" to Jesus and are saved! Rice wrote a beautiful song that says, We have a story of love past all measure, We tell how sinners forgiven can be. Oh, what a fountain of mercy is flowing, Down from the crucified Saviour of men, Precious the blood that He shed to redeem us, Grace and forgiveness for all of our sin. Solo Sung Before the Sermon by Mr. First, the Chinese will receive the Redeemer of Israel, Isaiah Third, the Chinese will come to Christ in the end-times, Luke

When I was in Beijing in I read the English version of the Asian Press and saw the Chinese government bragging about the fact that they had obtained the highest loans from the World Bank of any country on earth.

Now it is a reality. The general had two main messages to deliver to the Russian leadership and to the world. On the same day as the conference, Moscow delivered to China the first regiment of S surface-to-air missile systems. Two days earlier, news broke that Russia and China plan to merge their satellite tracking systems into one global navigation giant. If such a merger happens, it will indicate a level of mutual trust between these two nations that is unusual and noteworthy. These recent developments are only the latest in a decade and a half of rapid strengthening of the Russia-China partnership. The relationship is so robust, it could be called an alliance in every way except officially. In the s, a dispute erupted between China and what was then the Soviet Union about their shared border. The two also had considerably different views about how to implement communism and how to deal with the capitalist nations. In , these arguments exploded into war. The clash became so heated it threatened to trigger a nuclear conflict. Neither side pressed the nuclear button, but more than 20 years of distrust and animosity followed. Even amidst those decades of bitterness between Beijing and Moscow, one analyst repeatedly said that the two would eventually form a partnership that would change the world. He Was Right Herbert W. These are a small sampling of the numerous statements Mr. Armstrong and his newsmagazine made from up until his death in , saying that Russia and China would shift from mutual hatred to close cooperation. In , Russia-China relations remained deeply strained. But the trend of the last 15 yearsâ€”including the landmark events of early April â€”show that Mr. Viewed Through a Lucid Lens Mr. Armstrong accurately forecast the Russia-China cooperation that is so undeniable today because his primary intelligence source was Bible prophecy. The December Plain Truth referenced some of the specific scriptures that informed Mr. From time to time, news commentatorsâ€”in describing the coming catastrophic military struggle for world controlâ€”use the biblical expression Armageddon found in Revelation A passage in Ezekiel, written some 2, years ago, also informed Mr. Referring to this passage, Mr. Armstrong wrote in the April Plain Truth: Ezekiel 38 shows that Russia will be the leading nation in the end-time Asian power bloc, and that China will be in a position of secondary leadership. In the near term, the Russia-China partnership points to a violent future for the world. But it is also closely connected to the best imaginable news for mankind.

Mao Zedong, the first communist dictator in China Jiang Zemin, the communist dictator that started the persecution of Falun Gong in Interesting facts about modern China: Largest country of the world: China 1,4 billion people Biggest economy of the world: China Biggest dictatorship of the world: China One of the oldest and the most documented civilizations of the world: China Just by looking at the current state of world affairs we see that it is interesting to look into the history of the CCP. Mao Zedong seizes power and starts killing all his enemies in China, especially the elite of the Chinese society, the land owners and the bourgeoisie. The Great Leap kills up to 40 million Chinese, it was the deadliest famine in the world history. This is something evil prophesied by the Christian Bible: It was a disaster for China and the world and even monks were killed and temples were destroyed. In the CCP adopts the one child policy to limit the population growth. Every year tens of millions 13 million in – only the official number from hospitals of babies are killed by abortion. Tiananmen massacre in takes place and thousands of students are killed. The CCP reforms itself and adopts a capitalist model to try to improve the material standard for the Chinese people and hence garner their support. Jiang Zemin takes power in China and makes the Falun Gong movement its arch enemy. Internet is blocked from the Chinese people. The CCP is suspected of having killed millions of Chinese people for their organs, the majority of whom have been Falun Gong practitioners. The CCP wants to expand its influence to other countries across the world, take control of the natural resources in Africa, South America, Antarctica and the North Pole. At the same time it desperately tries to become the ruling world power by economic and other means of infiltrating foreign countries. Is this a coincidence or has this rising up of a communist China been arranged eons ago? Six year olds kids in Beijing making an evil promise to the CCP. The kids must wear the red scarf in school. According to our understanding, most of the famous religions and prophets have shown in their scriptures that China will be the focal point of mankind at the end of times. Extremely good and bad will be balanced in China and the spiritual transformation of China is the key to understanding our current era. The ancient prophets point to and being the big years of change in China.

Chapter 7 : Asia in Prophecy, China in Prophecy

The Beijing Prophecy is beyond doubt a work that the reader will find extremely difficult to put down from one chapter to the next. The Beijing Prophecy is an eye opener. It will send chills up the reader's spine, tears to the eyes, and good old belly laughs just in time to break the tension.

Invade Taiwan by October 05 China has drawn up secret military plans to take over the island of Taiwan by , an action that would likely lead to a larger U. The danger of a Taiwan conflict has grown in recent years even as current tensions between Washington and Beijing are mainly the result of U. The plan calls for military operations against the island to be carried out by China currently is using non-lethal meansâ€”psychological, diplomatic, propaganda, and informational warfareâ€”against Taiwan. Once these are exhausted, the plan for large-scale amphibious assault will be carried out. Any attempt by the Chinese military to take the island will be difficult and costly, the book says. The island has rough, mountainous terrain that has created a wind tunnel effect in the strait that produces very difficult weather for carrying troop and weapons transports, both air and sea. Taiwan is around miles long and 90 miles wide. Taiwanese military forces have been preparing for an invasion since Chinese nationalist forces first took refuge on the island at the end of the civil war with the communists in However, since the s, China has been rapidly building up its military capabilities for a battle to forcibly unify the island with the mainland. Over 1, ballistic and cruise missiles currently are stationed within range of the Taiwan. The war plan calls for rapidly capturing the capital Taipei and destroying the government; seizing other major cities and clearing out surviving defenders, and occupying the entire country. Military operations will emphasize speed and surprise to overwhelm coastal defenses and create so much destruction in the early phase that Taiwan would surrender before the U. The step-by-step invasion process will involve three phases: Several layers of a naval and air blockade and massive missile strikes on 1, targets will be used in the first phase. China then plans to launch sea-borne assaults with an armada of warships against 14 possible beach sites. The PLA believes a future invasion of Taiwan is inevitable, although the exact time is uncertain. China also regards Taiwan as a critical chokepoint for Japan and could be used by China to choke its rival. Psychological warfare actions will be combined with legal and media warfare and other political warfare tools. An internal Chinese military report outlines the use of information operations: A PLA document tells military leaders to find leadership organizations and their defenses. American Navy officials fear Chinese submarines will sink U. Others note that a Taiwan conflict could rapidly escalate to a U. Like the case of World War I, the true cause may be debated for a century and still undecided. The use of restricted Chinese military writings also provides new clues to Chinese intentions, plans and its ambitions to conquer Taiwan. Bill Gertz â€” Washington Free Beacon.

In our lifetime she has startle the world and frightened many in the military complex with her enormous economic and military potential" The rise of China to become a dominant world political force during the past decade has enormous significance from a prophetic point of view. Since then it has become apparent that this largest of all countries in the world has a prophetic role, however minor it may be, in end time events. We can readily understand that, for China has been content to stay within its vast borders for thousands of years and live pretty much to itself. In our lifetime she has startle the world and frightened many in the military complex with her enormous economic and military potential. Many observers recognize that within ten or at best twenty years China could very well threaten the entire world even more than the Soviet Union did just a decade ago. She already has the nuclear bomb or will have soon and she has a delivery system that is the fear of every country in the Orient. She is trafficking in arms beyond belief by buying them from Russia and any of the former impoverished satellite countries that will sell them and turning around and selling what they do not want to any of their oil rich allies that can afford them, like Iran, Iraq or even India. Their aggressive demand for Hong Kong, Taiwan and the Sprately Islands proves they have a strategy to control all of Asia. Basing their claims to these almost uninhabitable islands to centuries old documents, they are probably more interested in the suspected rich oil fields under them than their location. They know that no country can prosper today or in the foreseeable future without oil. But it is not just the Orient they are interested in. First it was disclosed they had leased an important pier in Long Beach, California, being vacated by the U. Another still amazing effort was their attempt to gain a foothold in the Panama Canal area when the U. By long term leases at each end of the canal they could virtually control the shipping through the canal. At this writing neither of these negotiations have been finalized, but it does show the long-range goals of the Chinese Communist government. Keep in mind, China is not controlled by democracy loving liberals like most countries in the world. Their leaders are among the most dedicated communists in the world. They are not "agrarian reformers" or "progressives" as our liberal media tried to represent them a few years ago. They are a ruthless group of elite gangsters who have stolen the opportunity for freedom from the 12 billion freedom loving Chinese people and have never wavered in their plan to use China as a military platform from which to conquer the world. The events of the next two decades, if indeed we have that long, will prove that point. Liberal American leaders have never been able to deal successfully with communists, much less with Oriental communists. Only former President Ronald Reagan who regarded communists for what they were, "an evil empire," understood them. He dealt with diplomacy backed by force, that is why the Soviet Union finally collapsed. When I was in Beijing in I read the English version of the Asian Press and saw the Chinese government bragging about the fact that they had obtained the highest loans from the World Bank of any country on earth. For several years they allowed American companies to buy twenty-five percent of corresponding companies in China to gain capitol. If you were to drive through Beijing you would no doubt be dumbfounded to see the names of countless American companies that have affiliates in China. This of course has contributed to our enormous trade deficit that has provided Chinas untold billions to support their socialistic economy. If further evidence is needed that Chinas has indeed awakened from her centuries old economic slumber that should have been erased for those who saw the TV special recently showing that of the ten tallest building in the world, seven of them are in China! Not exactly ideal places to be during the enormous earthquakes prophesied for the coming Tribulation period. Much of it came from the Chinese communist government. For historically using state money as bribery is an accepted path to obtaining national communists objectives. In spite of the fact that he ridiculed George Bush in for granting them the same trading preferences. Even though fifty-five witnesses have fled the country, pleading the Fifth Amendment, or refusing to testify before congress it is common knowledge that special favors were promised for that early cash that bought the TV ads that guaranteed his reelection in The payoff that U. Marines request to occupy a strategic pier in Long Beach, California, being abandoned by the U. Prophecy writer and political analysts, John Wheeler Jr. The huge ship merchant fleet has long been suspected of various illegal activities by U. The weapons were shipped by the Poly Technologies Group and were intended for sale to street gangs in Los Angeles. The main problem with allowing the Chinese to operate a port terminal in the defense-rich environment of Long Beach involves national security. The money was later returned to Chung. Outcries from irritated citizens and veteran groups alerted the U. Congress and the agreement was put on hold temporarily, pending the outcome of the 98 elections. In the meantime the recent red carpet treatment extended to the new dictator of China included an October welcome at the White House usually reserved for kings and potentates of friendly nations could also be considered a pay-off. What has many observers worried is that there may still be other secret agreements that must be met which will further compromise the military and industrial security of the United States. Of one thing we can be certain. China is not going to go away. More important, John the Revelator saw them as players on the world scene in the end times. In fact, what is said includes more than just China, for the term "kings of the east" really means "kings of the rising sun" which would include Japan and possibly other Asian countries. These "Sinites" along with other peoples evidently settled in the east in what we know today as China, after God scattered them from the Tower of Babel, and became isolated from the rest of the world. There is little doubt that those earliest settlers carried with them after the great flood the stories of creation and the one true God. One of the things early missionaries to China pointed out is the truth of God in the Chinese pictographic language. My brother-in-law was a missionary to Taiwan for over twenty years and shared with me that the Chinese name for God is "ShangT," which is made up of two pictographic symbols, "above" or heavenly and "emperor. In a country that worships many gods it is interesting that the earliest of Chinese characters going back as some suggest, 4, years ago means they recognized one that is above all emperors, or gods, as the "Heavenly Emperor. The word "beginning" of sin combines the pictographs for "woman, secretly and mouth. Even more obvious is the word for "desire or covet. Doubtless there are many other Chinese characters that could be traced to Genesis before the Tower of Babel. Another interesting factor students of China find is that the most ancient Chinese calendars are seven-day calendars. Given their pagan background one can only speculate that too is a carry over from Genesis. Geographically the Euphrates River, one of the first rivers mentioned in the Bible, has served for centuries as the natural dividing line between east and west. It is evident o Bible scholars that Judaism and Christianity had an enormous impact on the world west of the Euphrates River, but very little influence on the east. Instead the Master Deceiver has damned the billions of souls of the peoples of the east with a succession of false religions. First there was Confucianism, then Buddhism, Hinduism, Taoism and combinations of all of them. The idea that god is all and all is god is really a rejection of the God of the Bible. There is little doubt that the early settlers of Asia carried with them the account of the one true God and his early acts of creation, the Garden of Eden, the fall, and the world wide flood in the days of Noah. Unfortunately, the devil, the deceiver of the minds and souls of mankind made the orient his chief capital for the religions of Babylon. In Rome you have babylonish mysticism mixed with Christianity. Joseph Lam, who loves China, having been born there to missionary parents who spent most of their lives there, believes the national symbol of China, which is a dragon, is the true symbol of the God of China. In the book of Revelation our Lord called him a "liar and deceiver". The Apostle John calls Satan a dragon and predicts that when he is cast out of heaven he will deceive billions of people into taking the mark of the beast and worshipping his image Revelation During the Tribulation that old serpent the devil lead billions to reject Christ and worship himself. The story of how he made China and the Orient his personal religious prison, successfully closing them off to the gospel for almost two millenniums is too lengthy to go into here. Henry Morris writes of the Chinese: That is, they all envision an eternal universe, with no concept of a transcendent, omnipotent, personal God who created all things. Their emphasis is solely on present behavior. To them history consists mostly of interminable cycles, without beginning or ending. Associated with these pantheistic systems was and is always the worship of spirits. Whether these are understood as spirits of ancestors or as the spirits of trees and other natural objects, such worship is sin reality worship of demons, or fallen angels. Such religions thus are also commonly associated with idolatry. Comprising a monstrous complex of evolutionary, pantheistic, polytheistic, idolatrous, astrological, animistic humanism, it is merely a variant of the primeval religion introduced by Nimrod at Babel and promulgated through the world by the confusion of tongues and subsequent worldwide dispersion from Babel. By its ver nature lends itself to control of its devotees by demonic influence. He dwells in high places like the sacred mountains of Taishan in Shandong province. All his false temples are amazingly similar-reaching upward to heaven. Be it at the Tower of Babel, the pyramids of Egypt, the Inca copies of ancient Ziggurats in Mexico, Egypt, or the stoops of Burma-all exalt the concept of man and demons reaching upward. It is no surprise that so many forms of animism, demon worship, Hinduism, and Buddhism have been born in the Himalayan mountains. It is not difficult to see how the master deceiver of the souls of men can easily deceive "the kings of the east" and their followers into making the long trek west to the Meggido Valley to do battle with the King of Kings. His blessing on the nation during the early reign of Solomon that caused the queen of Sheba to say, "the half has not been told me" I Kings. Unfortunately, Solomon later disobeyed God and permitted his wives to bring in their pagan worship. After his death many Israelites followed them to paganism. So many that God finally permitted a pagan nation to take them into captivity and their lamp was almost extinguished. Instead of being a nation blessed of God the centuries showed they incurred the curse of god for their disobedience. The rejection of their own Messiah was of course the last straw and they were driven from the land for eighteen hundred years. In all probability, one of the areas of the world God intended them to evangelize was east of the Euphrates. Joseph Lam reminds us: King Solomon traded with china. Silk routes also went by sea from Jerusalem to Ningbo in the Tang and Song dynasties. The caravan land went through Baghdad and connected with nearly all the ancient capitals from Babylon to Khanbalik Beijing. There were plenty of ways to get the message behind those vast mountain passes if Israel had only been faithful to God instead of worshipping idols.

Chapter 9 : China in Prophecy

It was no exaggeration when Modern Diplomacy wrote on April 8 that "China's alignment with Russia is a fait accompli." The assessment came after a week of notable indications showing that the Moscow-Beijing partnership has reached a new peak of strength.
