

Chapter 1 : Inspirational Poetry:Faith Messages 9

What An Awesome God I Serve! I lived 25 of my 43 years behind the walls and fences of the prison system of Michigan. But my life didn't start out on the hard streets.

Each one of us is just a single person out of six billion on this earth, yet God knows our name and calls us by name. He planned for our arrival into this world. God not only knows our outward appearance, but He also knows our internal characteristics. He knows us better than we can ever possibly know ourselves. God has a plan and a future for us. For Jesus says in John But, what has our response been to this awesome God in the past? We have chosen to rebel against God. It all started in the literal Garden of Eden. From here, sin entered the world, and has affected all of mankind since. Whether we realize it or not, we rebel and sin against God every day. He sent His son Jesus to this earth and died for us. He completely blotted out all records of our transgressions: He gave us everything in His death. Even his own disciples deserted Him in His final hours. Even Peter, the Rock, denied he even knew Jesus three times, even though he had witnessed all of what Jesus had done for three years. Instead, Christ died for those who hated Him. Christ died for the ones who mocked Him, who spat on Him, who shoved a crown of Thorns on His head, the ones who sent Him to Calvary and who nailed Him to the Cross. The very Cross that washes our sins away. Christ died for us. The God whom we serve is not a God of the dead. On the third day, Jesus rose from his grave; he defeated death, he defeated Satan, he defeated sin itself. He rose and is now seated on the throne next to God, watching over all of us. We are truly important to God. Truly, we are important to God. He cares for us so much more than we can imagine. You see, God made us the pinnacle of His creation. For he breathed the breath of life into us and made us in the image of God. God loves us above everything else in His creation, we are His prized possession; He will take care of us. So, how do we respond now to this awesome gift of grace and mercy, this love that is unending? God calls us to be conformed to the likeness of His son. We now know how much of value we are to God, so how do we now respond? We respond by realizing that we need Him to take control. We respond by realizing that on our own we can not run our own lives; we are imperfect and make far too many mistakes. We must give God our heart. He will answer our prayers, not always how or when we may like, but He will answer. And his timing is perfect, because He knows every detail about our situation and what we need. He has given us everything in His death and in His Resurrection. For God is the only one who is worthy of all our praise, our worship, and our devotion. So, let us say to God, above all our distractions:

Pulpit Commentary Verse Not only supreme over all that are called god, but the complex and sum of all that is Divine; the Great Reality, of which the "gods many" of the nations were at the best but the symbols of particular attributes or qualities. Which regardeth not persons; is not partial, as a judge who has respect to the condition and circumstances of parties rather than to the merits of the case cf. Nor taketh reward; cloth not accept presents as bribes cf. Matthew Henry Commentary We must fear the Lord our God. We must love him, and delight in communion with him. We must walk in the ways in which he has appointed us to walk. We must serve him with all our heart and soul. What we do in his service we must do cheerfully, and with good will. We must keep his commandments. There is true honour and pleasure in obedience. We must give honour to God; and to him we must cleave, as one we love and delight in, trust in, and from whom we have great expectations. We are here taught our duty to our neighbour. And those who have themselves been in distress, and have found mercy with God, should be ready to show kindness to those who are in the like distress. We are here taught our duty to ourselves. Cast away all corrupt affections and inclinations, which hinder you from fearing and loving God. By nature we do not love God. This is original sin, the source whence our wickedness proceeds; and the carnal mind is enmity against God, for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be; so then they that are in the flesh cannot please God, Ro 8: Let us, without delay or reserve, come and cleave to our reconciled God in Jesus Christ, that we may love, serve, and obey him acceptably, and be daily changed into his image, from glory to glory, by the Spirit of the Lord. Consider the greatness and glory of God; and his goodness and grace; these persuade us to our duty. Oh for thy purifying, persevering, and renewing influences, that being called out of the state of strangers, such as our fathers were, we may be found among the number of the children of God, and that our lot may be among the saints.

But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. By this we may know that we are in him: Has he said, and will he not do it? Or has he spoken, and will he not fulfill it? You have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them; and you preserve all of them; and the host of heaven worships you. Like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, that by it you may grow up into salvationâ€” if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is good. As you come to him, a living stone rejected by men but in the sight of God chosen and precious, you yourselves like living stones are being built up as a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and there is one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, A God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and upright is he. For we all stumble in many ways. And if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able also to bridle his whole body. If we put bits into the mouths of horses so that they obey us, we guide their whole bodies as well. Look at the ships also: So also the tongue is a small member, yet it boasts of great things. How great a forest is set ablaze by such a small fire! Be careful what you do, for there is no injustice with the Lord our God, or partiality or taking bribes. He will not leave you or destroy you or forget the covenant with your fathers that he swore to them. For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness and in fear and much trembling, and my speech and my message were not in plausible words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the power of God. We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers, as is right, because your faith is growing abundantly, and the love of every one of you for one another is increasing. Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring. This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are also sufferingâ€” So great is your power that your enemies come cringing to you. A Psalm of David. My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? Why are you so far from saving me, from the words of my groaning? O my God, I cry by day, but you do not answer, and by night, but I find no rest. Yet you are holy, enthroned on the praises of Israel. In you our fathers trusted; they trusted, and you delivered them. To you they cried and were rescued; in you they trusted and were not put to shame. Now therefore thus says the Lord, You shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die. Count it all joy, my brothers, when you meet trials of various kinds, for you know that the testing of your faith produces steadfastness. And let steadfastness have its full effect, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him. Grace to you and peace from God our Father. We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, Now there were dwelling in Jerusalem Jews, devout men from every nation under heaven. And at this sound the multitude came together, and they were bewildered, because each one was hearing them speak in his own language. And how is it that we hear, each of us in his own native language? Shall we receive good from God, and shall we not receive evil?

Chapter 4 : Awesome God! Amazing Power! (Psalm) – First Baptist Scott City, MO

The latest video of an old favorite for church. Hope you enjoy and are blessed!

This morning we will take a closer examination of these Biblical truths. There is nothing in this world that is outside the power of God. The Bible reveals that God is sovereign rules over all things. We know this because Genesis 1: Colossians 1 gets more specific by telling us that it was actually God the Son who created all things. Not only that, but all things were created for Him and through Him all things hold together. God provides food, snow, wind, and water to all. God has power over all things. God even has power over Satan and his demonic followers. Because of this we recognize: Ask Joseph if God is in control. He told his brothers who had sold him into slavery in Genesis As for you, you meant evil against me, but God meant it for good. He confesses in Job Why does He offer forgiveness as a gift? He does so because we have rebelled against Him. Rather than destroy us, He offers forgiveness. Paul, in 2 Corinthians 5: Jesus Christ died, but He was raised from the dead. He died for sin and was raised to conquer death itself. We visit a tomb, but it is an empty tomb. Death could not contain Him. Because He lives, He is able to grant us life. This awesome God with amazing power has power over all things. He is always in control and offers forgiveness for your rebellion. His understanding is beyond measure. Trust in Him daily. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will make straight your paths. How does knowing that God is in control help you in your daily life? What forgiveness does God offer? What proof does the Bible offer to the resurrection of Jesus?

Hope that it blesses your life and brings glory to our Lord Jesus Christ. It was , the company which I am working now was almost collapsed. Many people worked there lost their jobs due to their poor performances. Soon the trading division of the company was given to me with a condition. The condition was that I should bring at least a single business within three months from January and if not then it would result to the cancellation of my Visa and I would be sent back home. Also, my salary was reduced to almost half of which I was getting. The trading division which was handed over to me was almost a crippled one. It had neither clients to serve nor any specific product to market and I had no previous marketing experience. And I know it was not my strength but the grace of our savior. Many people whom I know promised me to help me to get some sort of support. Yet, none of them helped me nor the company facilitated me with any of the marketing tools. But, I was waiting for my Lord to shine His face upon me and I never worried about anything as I knew God would open me another door if this door shuts. The days rolled gradually and I did whatever I could do for the progress of the company with prayers. Finally, we got a business order from one of the prestigious firm in Qatar during February So, I realized that God has started His work in my life. On March , the final month of my probation, I was invited to visit the establishment from which we had got the order. You might think that it would have been a good news for me. But, it was not. They blamed us for submitting over-priced quotation and they pointed out that our price was almost 10 times more comparing to all other offers which other suppliers quoted them. Also, they warned us that we would be black listed if we do the same mistake ever again. Finally, 30th March arrived, the day before the end of my probation period. Still I never worried for anything even to go back to my own country. I knew I would survive as long as my faith is in our Lord God. I went to the office as usual and a pleasant surprise was waiting for me. Yes, the order was sanctioned, the one which I quoted during my probation, the offer for which I was blamed by the prestigious establishment. What an awesome Lord God we server

In Genesis beginning chapter one tells us how the world was created: God made light “ there was only darkness before, not only was light created but He separated it from the darkness. That was our first day and night in history. God made the heaven, the earth and the seas ” He made all the dry land and all the waters collected into their specific places. God made all the vegetation “ all the plants, trees, grass, shrubs, fruit vines were created. Not only did the flora come into being but they were also created to bring forth seed after their own kind to continue to flourish over the earth. It signals seasons and times, reminding and calling forth times and seasons. God created the creatures of the sea and the air” God filled the seas with all sorts of creative life, and the air with every type of bird. God created all the earthly creatures “ livestock, creeping and crawling creatures, every type of land creature. The best for last What God did was very logical and chronological. Without the previous, the other would not survive. So then He created man. When God created everything that He looked upon was fitting, pleasant and He approved it verses 4, 10, 12, 18, 21, 25 and God approved of the entire of creation completely. There was not one thing that was made that was not approved. All in preparation for mankind In the same way, God created everything in preparation for man, so that when man was created, he could operate and function in a full and complete way. So too the journey of our lives. Many times we wonder why we have to go through trials and tribulations. It is simply for this purpose. It is to prepare us for the next step and the next and the next, until we reach to the place where God wants us to be. Along the way, we come to smaller places God wants us to reach before our ultimate place in this world. When we reach those places and look back then we understand why God asked us to walk that way. Each little step causes our faith and our love for God to grow. Little baby steps God knows we are human and frail. So He gives us little steps to take. And suddenly, when you look back, you are such a long way from when you started. It is then we can appreciate all the little steps. Consider it wholly joyful, my brethren, whenever you are enveloped in or encounter trials of any sort or fall into various temptations. Be assured and understand that the trial and proving of your faith bring out endurance and steadfastness and patience. But let endurance and steadfastness and patience have full play and do a thorough work, so that you may be perfectly and fully developed, lacking in nothing. And, He is kind enough to allow us to take baby steps to our destinations.

The best for last. What God did was very logical and chronological. Without the previous, the other would not survive. So then He created man. He didn't just save the best for last, but He needed to provide for man prior to being created.

I lived 25 of my 43 years behind the walls and fences of the prison system of Michigan. I can point to no hungry nights, bad neighborhoods, or anything of that sort, and in fact, my early years were spent living in an affluent neighborhood where the biggest problem was me. I slept in tents and broke into houses and schools in order to feed myself. My truancy from home and my criminal behavior resulted in my being sent to several state facilities. I was sent to these facilities to be rehabilitated. However, the people I met there only prompted me on in the way I was going. At the age of 16, I was arrested for breaking and entering while on escape from Boys Training School. In normal situations I would have been taken back to juvenile home, but instead was jailed and charged as an adult. Four months later I was in Jackson Prison. Strangely enough, I found that I liked the prison setting because it gave me the chance to be as mean as I wanted to be and people would respect me. Two years later I was released on parole, but was returned to prison within thirty days for robbery. This cycle went on for two decades, and through it all, I only learned to distrust and hate. In I was sent to maximum security for being the leader of the white supremacist group known as the Aryan Brotherhood. While at maximum security, I was actively suing the prison system for racial discrimination against whites and religious discrimination against Christian Identity adherents who were not allowed to openly proclaim their beliefs, which were openly hostile to other nationalities and races. It was in the midst of all this hatred and racism that the Spirit of Truth started dealing with my heart and mind. I began to see the error of my ways and how far I was away from God. Slowly, he moved into my life as I found myself surrendering more and more to Him. God has so blessed my life that I honestly question Him as to why. But He always reminds me that it is not by my actions that I receive his blessings, but rather by His choice. I know that I serve the God who loved me so much that he sent His only begotten Son to die for me so that He could have fellowship with me! What an awesome God He is! Chapter 8 : What an Awesome God We Serve - dailywalkinthelight

I Serve An Awesome God by Thomas H. Smith, part of the Gospel CD.

It was an amazing sight but I stayed inside and did not try to capture a photo of it. My concern was messing up. See part of my issues deal with is staying focused under pressure. In my mind the window of the eclipse was tight and the consequences were significant. I did not want to get caught up in the shot and forget and look at the sun without protection, or some other foolish thing. Besides I knew there would be plenty who would capture photos of it. I did not want to get caught up in the shot and forget, and look at the sun without protection, or some other foolish thing. Yes, it is cool. Yes, it points out the precision of His creation. There is a place for everything and an order to it and I am certain that this event occurring now in this place and it has significance, but I felt certain that I did not want to take a chance and have an issue that could cause me to miss another wonderful sight. Maybe that is crazy, but I knew what was going on outside. I did not have to see the eclipse to know that it was true. I was surrounded by a multitude of witnesses. I pondered that and chose to let this one go so I could focus on the usual and mundane sights of this world. He shared with me a great sunrise. Then I prayed and read and K-love gave me another reminder. They reminded me of the love we have for God, the Love God has for us, the beauty of His creation, and all His provision. I read 19 still thinking of the eclipse. In them he has set a tent for the sun, 5 which comes out like a bridegroom leaving his chamber, and, like a strong man, runs its course with joy. Through His Word, we gain wisdom and understanding even on a day when we might not turn a page IF on that day we spent some time contemplating the wonder and glory of His work. It overwhelms me when I look at all he has done and It not only survives it thrives if we take time to simply take it in. Then I considered His Promise. John Chapter 13 and 14 I read chapter thirteen and it is the last supper time. He talks of His betrayal and He talks about His leaving. He also gives them a commandment to love one another so that others may know that they are His disciples. He even tells Peter he will betray him 3 times. Then in 14, the disciples are a bit shaken as one might expect and Jesus tells them this truth. Believe in God; believe also in me. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? How can we know the way? No one comes to the Father except through me. From now on you do know him and have seen him. I could go on and on, but I think I will stop here. The thing is the love of Jesus Christ is so vast that I cannot fathom its reach. Closing Thoughts I am not sure I can tie all this together today, but God can. I look around me at the wonder of his creation and the gift of His Word and the Church family I know and have yet to meet and I am filled with thanksgiving. I am reminded today of Galatians 4. We were once lost but now we are found, blind but now we see. Our eyes have been opened to all creation and to the wonder of his Word in so far as we are ready for it or in need of it. Every day I see something new, no matter how many times I study a passage. Our God is an awesome God! Prayer Father, I pray that my eyes might always seek your face. My heart pursues you, and I never grow tired of your wisdom or the beauty of your creation or grow tired of sharing your message. In Jesus name, I pray!
