Beverly LaHaye, wife of Tim LaHaye Rev. James Kennedy, in the 60s both he and his Unification Church were universally regarded as a dangerous cult. The abuse.

The station called the afternoon, Jeff had some emergency situations he had take care of, and asked me if I would sit in. So, I called a good friend of mine. Her name is Chey Simonton. Chey will be joining us about 15 or 20 minutes after the hour. Chey has done hours and hours of research into Sun Myung Moon and his affiliations along with his connections which are very strong to the religious right, the conservative right, all of those people that you know and hear everyday on the radio and in politics. Hi, Kelleigh, how are you? I hope everyone will stick their tape recorders on because this will be some really juicy information. Moon, for a sizable contribution to American Coalition for Traditional Values. It also mentions Concerned Women for America. This is from Rev. Then the communist power will be helpless before ours. We have to purge the corrupted politicians and the sons of God must rule the world. The separation between religion and politics is what Satan likes most. Upon my command to the Europeans and others throughout the world to come live in the U. Then what would happen? We can embrace the religious world in one arm and the political world in the other. With this great ideology, if you are not confident to do this, you had better die! Well, he is because he plays to the conservative, the politically conservative Christians and provides the Washington Times newspaper and networks very strongly with Christian activists and Christian pastors through all these front groups, and on the other hand, he also funded and networked with all the eastern religions and the very liberal. On the Internet you can find one of his web sites promoting the U. Habitat II Conference that was held in Istanbul last year. So he is working both sides very avidly. He wants to join them together. Unify everything under a big world religion. Some of the Baptist churches participated in that. But, I know that the Southern Baptist Convention identified over half a million freemasons and there was a big issue within their church on whether they should allow freemasonry, members of freemasonry to be church members. They do have this "great architect of the universe" mentality and recognize plurality of religions that spans from Christianity through all the eastern religions and Buddhism and Hindus and Shintos and many, many different religious organizations that, Biblically, Christians are told not to fellowship with. He is into self-glorification and his followers are involved in things to glorify their True Father, Moon. However, Christians have other loyalties and glorifying Moon is not to be thought of. We are to glorify God and Jesus Christ, our Savior. Is it strictly because of the money or is it because of his rhetoric or is it both? I would say he adapts his rhetoric. He does make very large amounts of money available and people whose political goals have superceded their Christian beliefs are very tempted by that money. They put their Bible in their pocket when they stick their hand out to Rev. Of course, the love of money is the root of all evil. So, it is a very serious thing. I think the most indicative thing is the fact that if they were comfortable with being associated with Moon, they would be publicly, they would be having him as a guest on their radio shows and promoting him as they do all the other people in the conservative movement. No, publicly they are not trumpeting that alliance they have with him. However, they are quietly cooperating and they do participate in his events. But, you know, in railing against media all of the time, you know the buzzword is "the liberal media bias". And, they understand what Moon says and what Moon is supposed to stand for. They can see the blatant hypocrisy in Christian political figures working with Moon. Those Christian people have destroyed their testimony, their Christian testimony, with the media. Possibly their political testimony is okay. But, the liberal media is perfectly right to judge them as hypocrites. There are a lot of people that say, "Well, all you have to do is just love Jesus. So, Moon graciously took on that mantle from poor failed Jesus. So, when you look at Robert Grant is a pastor. Jerry Falwell upheld him in the 80s. People were trying to rescue their children from the Unification Cult. It was really considered bad, bad news. Bob Larson wrote about the Unification Church in his book on the cults. It is on the Internet now. If you go into the anti-cult sites Our guest is Chey Simonton. Chey, continue and please us folks who have computers where they can find these spots on the Internet. There is a Unification Church official web page. As a search, you can use, "Sun Myung Moon" and there are many, many sites that come up on that search word. You read his speeches and you understand what he is about. The one that to me was the most shocking, he delivered at the Family Federation for Peace, a big 3 day seminar a year ago at the end of July, for three days, finishing on August 1, He delivered a speech about his theology on sexual organs. He feels that Jesus should have married and because Jesus did not marry, Jesus failed; that in order to enter the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Heaven, you must be married under the blessing of Rev. The offspring of a marriage that he has blessed will be sinless. There will be no original sin in children born under marriages that he has blessed. He invites everyone to join, so they can register in the Kingdom of Heaven, in the big marriage blessing ceremony coming up in November of this year. Robert Schuller of the Crystal Cathedral. Pat Boone provided the entertainment. Bill Cosby, when he found out that it was a Unification Church function, tried to decline to appear. They threatened him with a lawsuit. This function was sponsored by The Washington Times Foundation which is an adjunct to The Washington Times Newspaper that is always promoted by Christian political activists as the "conservative" Washington Times, never as the Unification Church-owned Washington Times. Also, Ralph Reed of the Christian Coalition was a paid speaker at that event. He gave glowing reports in that book about Dr. Robert Grant and American Freedom Coalition. Jerry Falwell was a member at one time. But, Pat Robertson, Nelson Bunker Hunt, all the names that you would know in the Christian Right that most uninformed Americans out there consider conservative. You know, when Dr. This is an article that he wrote to the Washington Post on October 29, rebutting an article that identified him, the American Freedom Coalition as a Moon front-group said, "I am not now nor have I ever been a follower of Reverend Moon or a member of the Unification Church. I am an evangelical Christian trained at the Fuller Theological Seminary who belongs to Christ and to no one else Yes, and this was printed in October and that was only in two years. So in two years he had received over 5 million dollars from Moon. He is a pastor. There are many statements in that book that tell the truth about AFC. Yet, the man said it in front of countless of the Christian Right hierarchy. Yes, there were 1, people in that audience. Before I do that though, Kelleigh, I thought it would be interesting to go through and quote some more from that article by Pastor Robert Grant, the head of the American Freedom Coalition because in admitting that he had obtained over 5 million dollars from Unification business interests he says, "To gain their support, I have occasionally gone to those interests and presented my proposals. No one has ever come to me and offered to support the American Freedom Coalition on a quid pro quo basis. Furthermore, any future support solicited by me from any source whatever, will never be conditional. Our tax returns are a matter of public record. Of the more than , people on our mailing list and more than , individuals who are financial contributors to the AFC, no more than 75 or 80 are known to me to be members of the Unification Church. I have a feeling that the Unification Church tie with the American Freedom Coalition was not something that he chose to disclose to people he was soliciting for membership in the American Freedom Coalition. When people join those organizations, very often they think of those contributions as tithes. Co-mingling money that you think of as a tithe to an organization headed by a pastor, and to think that this pastor was also going to worshipers of Rev. Sun Myung Moon is blasphemous to most Christians. As a matter of fact, talking about his fundraising, we might mention the Colonel North Letter that was sent out by Dr. Robert Grant of American Freedom Coalition. It was regarding, actually let me read a few paragraphs of this. It says, "Dear Fellow American: Colonel North indicted, to be tried and jailed? What do you think?"

The Unification Church even promotes the books of some of these evangelicals like Dr. James Dobson and Tim and Beverly LaHaye (HSA Books. Books of Interest, Last Visited: May 4,). Toward the end of the s there were repeated reports of Unification Church businesses failing.

Religious Roundtable File Name: Members of the board of directors of the Roundtable were: Hill, pastor at Mt. Zion Baptist Church; Rev. Stanley, First Baptist Church of Atlanta. Past members of the Council of 56 include: Cohron; Dale Collins; W. Kauffman; General George Keegan, Jr. Rader, deputy counsel to the Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution; Dr. John Wilkerson, Bethel Temple; Rev. Ralph Wilkerson, Melodyland Church, J. The following are a few shortened bios from the same source, associated with this Roundtable of Major General George J. From there McAteer moved to the righting Conservative Caucus where he served as national field director until founding the Religious Roundtable. A One World Religion? In light of the ties between nearly all Christian "evangelicals" with Rev. This prayer was broadcast the world over. Though this establishment should have gone under several years ago, Moon pours multi-millions of dollars annually into this paper. He also owns the publication "Insight". He indeed owns many businesses and operates in media of several nations worldwide. In Central America He is the owner of the "Tiempos del Mundo" Times of the World , another leading news publication, making him the conservative voice there as well. In the early s, Moon was shooting for the acclaim of all of Central and South America. His rescue came in the form of one man. That man was George Bush Sr. Bush was the principal speaker at the Sheraton Hotel at a Moon sponsored event, with to guests in attendance giving this manipulative operative remarkable credibility overnight. The editors of The Washington Times tell me that never once has the man with the vision interfered with the running of the paper, a paper that in my view brings sanity to Washington, D. I am convinced that Tiempos del Mundo is going to do the same thing. In Tokyo, Japan during one Moon rallying function, over 50, pro-Moon advocates were addressed by the two. This was sponsored by the Womens Federation for World peace. It has also been speculated that Moon and Bush were seeking joint business ventures in South America. An interesting fact is that despite over 30 years of allegations from some U. Conclusion What do Rev. Moon, leading Christian evangelicals and the American government have in common? There can be no doubt that these dark elements of government, industry, banking, and intelligence are leading us into their new world order, and their influence has been extended to nearly every Christian in the world through these leading evangelicals who claim to represent Christ. Moon quote from August 4th may give us a little more "insight" The world will reject Americans who continue to be so foolish. Once you have this great power of love, which is big enough to swallow entire America, there may be some individuals who complain inside your stomach. However, they will be digested.

Chapter 3 : The Unholy Alliance - Christianity and The NWO - 1

This page is a list of prominent members and supporters of the Unification movement, founded by Sun Myung Moon.

The Womens Federation for World Peace paid 3. The Heritage Foundation then seems to have paid themselves a fee of one million dollars for their trouble. Since that time Falwell has spoken at many of Moons functions, embracing the cult-leader with unabashed reverence and friendship. Moon has even been a guest speaker in mainline denominational Churches in the past few years. Falwell further praised Rev. Moon calling him, "An unsung hero to the cause of freedom, who is to be commended for his determination and courage and endurance in support of his beliefs. This trip came shortly before Falwell was awarded the Moon money. The institute named LaHaye the most influential evangelical leader in the United States of the last quarter century. He and his wife, Beverly, the leader of Concerned Women for America, have been a driving force in the organizational efforts of evangelicals, including the Moral Majority and the respected political think tank Council for National Policy. In as was reported earlier, LaHaye was addressing several hundred evangelical Christians, the flock he claims to guard and feed He exhorted that they go willingly to jail with the Rev. Moon in demonstration to his imprisonment over tax fraud. That was not the worldwide level. Today here in the United States, which is the microcosm of the world, whatever Father does has a universal impact What Father has accomplished at Danbury is the restoration of Christianity and the unification of Christianity. Father brought Christianity into one with the Unification Church. Bo Hi Pak continues: During the drive, Dr. What a beautiful union, a beautiful union of brothers, like Esau and Jacob. Chapter 45 Mount Danbury", Fundamental Christian. Listen to what he says about the Unitarian Church: In spite of all that, a number of Roman Catholic priests and Unitarian clergy With my limited evangelical background, this was a further expansion of my own ecumenical outlook. This is the dream of Rev. Sun Moon and all his organizations. Thus, he must have been very pleased with Dr. Graham financially plugged into the Illuminati one spot above Rev. He received much support from the Rockefeller groups, who is, in turn, owned by Phillippe Rothschild! Even though Templeton is a pantheist and Illuminist through and through -- a man who does not believe in either the Bible or Jesus Christ as God -- Graham praised him greatly. In this book he draws upon a variety of sources -- including the Bible -- to reveal the moral and spiritual principles which have shaped his own life and work. Fundamentalists have been increasingly dismayed by Dr. James Kennedy was in the Apostate camp early. Moon was arrested for his illegal business activities. Paul Crouch and Hal Lindsey joined in She, too, has been a public speaker for Moon functions. However, good disinformation specialists will give mostly good information, as we have repeatedly stated. Ralph Reed -- Former director of the Christian Coalition and member of the conservative think-tank "Heritage Foundation". He had a ghostwriter write a book entitled, "New World Order" and then had Newt Gingrich and Jesse Helms on his program to expound this coming Antichrist system. Robertson has exercised a large influence on politics, so much so he has been besmudged by its dirty laundry. He was a heavy supporter of President Ronald Reagan, especially during Operation Contra, at which time he had Illuminist Ollie North on his program consistently. Conversion is mentioned, but it is conversion to a Christian lifestyle, not conversion to Jesus Christ. This is spreading like wildfire among Catholics, Baptists, and others, so Christians should be warned; be wise, beware! These Evangelical leaders, many of whom are tied into Rev. Sun Moon, are leading their flocks directly into this Antichrist system! Since we have not addressed the Coalition For Religious Freedom, let us stop here and do so now: It was formed by LaHaye after Moon was arrested for tax evasion. James Kennedy and Don Wildman to name a few. This group is made up of many of the same members from Rev. Robison is a member of the Roundtable, as are many of the evangelical leaders already mentioned. E1 and August 1, , p. C2] President George W. Bush -- Even though he is not pictured above, he is considered the defacto leader of the Evangelical Christian Right! In NEWS , we report in depth on the following news article, briefly repeated here. Christian publications, radio and television shower Bush with praise, while preachers from the pulpit treat his leadership as an act of providence. A procession of religious leaders who have met with him testify to his faith, while Web sites encourage people to fast and pray for the president. President Bush has been declared the leader of the "Religious Right". The rest of the world also considers Bush to be the leader of the Christian Right! Listen to this news story: But, you might ask, does he have connections with Rev. Consider the following news stories: Among the attendees were Paul Crouch More than 1, ministers, civic and political leaders attended the event Chapman told Baptist Press:

Chapter 4 : Unification Church (Moonies) - Christian or Cult?

The Unification Church of the United States, sometimes colloquially referred to as the "Moonies", is a new religious movement in the United States of racedaydvl.com began in the s and s when missionaries from Japan and South Korea were sent to the United States by the international Unification Church's founder and leader Sun Myung Moon.

Intelligence community as strange bedfellows. This short follow up will attempt to go deeper into the makeup of these organizations, and how they work together. Every attempt to document the claims, statements and facts herein have been made so as not to unjustly accuse or impugn the integrity of those mentioned. But in the end, if such an unholy alliance exists, there are manifold truths which likely will never surface to the light of day for exposure and examination. We will deal with what can be verified be reasonable sources. Amazingly, most of these organizations are almost entirely made up of the same individuals. The vast majority of these men have spent decades making forays into political groups of this nature. What are they doing? Is it untoward to ask such questions, to scrutinize their political involvement with Moon? In fact, we feel it is imperative. We have already shown that some evangelicals have unabashedly admitted Moon sponsorship, such as Jerry Falwell. It seems that most though try to sweep this dirt under the rug. Billy Graham said that we should "embrace" this "New World Order". While we grieved over him and prayed for him, we had to warn men against his ministry as we had warned Billy against his direction. All Jews, Graham states "are engrafted into the Christian Church. In , Billy Graham was awarded the Templeton Prize for "progress in religion", a cash reward of roughly 1 Million dollars. For decades Graham has offered a confusing doctrinal stance. Billy Graham said, "I found that my beliefs are essentially the same as those of orthodox Catholics. We only differ on some matters of later church tradition. Frady has spent much time interviewing Graham, and those close to him. He documents that Graham at a New York Crusade refused to allow street people into the crusade because they were dirty, a loathsome violation of every Christian creed toward the poor, to whom the Gospel Jesus made declaration. This is tantamount to the Galatians incident in scripture when Peter, fearing the reproach of certain Judaisers of wealth and status, withdrew himself from associating with gentiles, and the Apostle Paul had to oppose him to his face publicly, "for he was to be blamed" Galatians 2: With the release of the Nixon tapes we see a very shaky, strangely unchristian past for Graham. He is also quoted as saying, "Pope John Paul II has emerged as the greatest religious leader of the modern world and one of the greatest moral Though Graham is stating a fact, how does it reflect on his ministry of the Gospel of Jesus Christ from a Protestant position? More examples of a homogenization of the message and messengers for the sake of public appeal. Only freemasons are allowed to attend these ceremonies. The rites of the Masonic order, the writings of Albert Pike and the requisites for Masonic initiates are distinctly and undeniably counter to Christian doctrine and faith. At that gathering were many Jews, Muslims, Christians and many other faiths gathered together praying to the god of Islam as the God of Abraham -- a distinct moment of "unification". Is it merely a matter of decades of compromise with the world, or something more strategic? I wrote to the Billy Graham Evangelical Ministries, to ask what moved him to participate in a prayer to the god of Mohammhed, and to date have received no answer. In as was reported earlier, LaHaye was addressing several hundred evangelical Christians, the flock he claims to guard and feed, and did he exhort that they draw closer to his God? No, unless his god is the Reverend Sun Myung Moon. He exhorted that they go willingly to jail with the Rev. Moon in demonstration to his imprisonment over tax fraud. The spin on the story has been that LaHaye and others were supporting Rev. LaHaye visited him and apologized for the actions of the U. Government which imprisoned him. Also visiting Moon in prison was the president of one of the groups chaired by LaHaye. Moon sponsored "Christian Voice" group. Though LaHaye resigned, others after him signed on, continuing to bolster its credibility. Moon himself has revealed that this claim of reincarnation is true. LaHaye and his family are involved directly with groups sponsored by and in some cases founded upon money from a false messiah whose objective is publicly stated, and loudly at that, for the unification of world religions. So where exactly does LaHaye stand if in doctrine he warns of unification brought about by Rome, and yet associates with the Unification Church? Religions polish people to be qualified to enter the region of the original homeland. Of course these anti-cult groups tell us that since Moon claims Jesus will worship at Moons feet, and inflicts mind control techniques over his followers, his religion is a cult that should by all means be avoided and certainly watched. Paul Crouch is another who seems to shy away from the overall doctrine espoused on his "Christian" television network, and appears to work for religious unification. The Tangled Web Revealed The Council for National Policy We touched on this council in Part 1, but now we shall take a closer look at it and its members. This group was founded by Tim LaHaye in Again we have shown definite ties between this "Christian" organization and the Rev. Moons openly anti-Christ organizations. This will be addressed later more fully, but this group is also associated heavily with the controversial and cultic Church of Scientology, the John Birch Society known for its espionage work , and the intelligence community. It was stated by Congressman Woody Jenkins Newsweek, "I predict that one day before the end of this century the Council [for National Policy] will be so influential that no President, regardless of party or philosophy, will be able to ignore us or our concerns or shut us out of the highest levels of government. Bush addressed the CNP. His campaign refused to release the full text of his remarks. Moon organizations and money. This all under the umbrella of social change and "Christian family values" in America. LaHaye and Bauer appeared and spoke together in a rally against psychiatric practices on children. The question is, regardless of a good cause, is it necessary for these evangelical leaders to join forces with Moon, Scientology and the Intelligence community? LaHayes group, the Council for National Policy, is just one example of evangelical organizations being filled with Intelligence officers, Moon representatives and Scientology members. To name all the members who were and are involved in the intelligence community and cults would take too long here, but here are just a few; 5 Howard Ahmanson Jr. Member of the American Freedom Coalition. Vice Chairman for the U. Member too of the Council of 56, Religious Roundtable. Graduate of the fuller Theological Seminary, and member of the Religious Roundtable. Bo Hi Pak has praised the union between these Christian organizations and Moonie orgs saying " This is a group espousing the New World Order and have actively and openly worked toward it for decades. A reminder that some of the evangelical members of the CNP have included:

Chapter 5 : Arrests, Brainwashing Charges : Controversy Dogs Moon as Power, Converts Grow - latimes

In , Rabbi James Rudin of the American Jewish Committee accused the Unification Church of "seeking to reinfect the spiritual bloodstream of mankind with a cancerous version of contempt for Jews and Judaism."

This process is discussed under the rubric of conversion in the religious literature, a term with a more cognitive and emotional meaning and referring more to beliefs. Those who study social movements, including new religious movements, more often use terms such as recruitment , which has more of a behavioral connotation focused on participation. The research on joining the new religions was initially derived from literature in sociology and psychology of religion that shared a common assumption of something being wrong with a person who would seek religion—what Stark called the "psychopathological" explanation of religious participation. The early literature in this psychopathological vein assumed that a person must be suffering some major deprivation or have had some major trauma in his or her life to be interested in religion—a "religion as crutch" perspective. Bainbridge uses the term strain theories to refer to such ideas within the sociological realm. Two Approaches to Conversion Almost from the beginning of research on participation in new religions, that research and scholarly writing took on a dramatically bifurcated perspective. Some extended the deprivation- or strain-oriented tradition from the psychology and sociology of religion, integrating those ideas with results of studies on radical resocialization of Chinese after the communist takeover as well as research on U. This amalgam was used to develop the "brainwashing" or "mind control" perspective that has come to dominate popular conceptions of how people are recruited to the newer religions see discussion in Richardson and Kilbourne , and critiques in Anthony , Kilbourne and Richardson , Richardson The integration of the psychopathological tradition with these newer ideas focused on mysterious psychotechnologies allegedly being used by leaders of the newer religions. Supposedly, these new religious leaders had taken the ideas of the communists and were applying them to the youth of America Solomon Those youth were assumed to be relatively helpless against such techniques, and thus were joining the new groups by the thousands. This perception of powerful psychotechniques being used against young people has fueled much of the animosity toward the new and exotic religions and their recruitment processes. Such views also have been essential to the many legal attacks that have been launched against the newer religions Anthony , Richardson This research has led to questioning of some basic assumptions of the psychopathology model described above, especially the idea that potential recruits are being forced to do something by pressures beyond their control. Instead, this empirical work has revealed that recruits are usually acting on their own volition, making decisions about participation based on a sometimes quite systematic and thorough analysis of alternatives, and engaged in negotiations about what must be done and believed to become a member in good standing. This more subject-centered and volitional model assumes that the person is in control of the situation, not the other way around Kilbourne and Richardson The world-saver model was unique in its combination of traditional ideas with more contemporary issues in this area of research. The basic elements of the model include three predisposing characteristics perception of long-term tension, strain, and so on; possession of a religious rhetoric and problem-solving perspective; self-definition as a "religious seeker" and four situational factors reaching a "turning point" when old lines of action no longer work, development of affective ties between preconvert and group members, weakening affective ties with nongroup members, intensive interaction with group members. The Lofland-Stark model was important in developing an alternative paradigm because it served as a bridge between the old and the new, containing a logically complete statement of the traditional psychological predisposition perspective focused on forces that might "push" a person into conversion, but also including elements explaining why a movement might be attractive to potential recruits. This latter aspect spoke to the future of research on conversion by focusing on the process of conversion , recognizing that conversion has a definite organizational aspect and is a social event. One other key aspect of the model was the incorporation of subjects who would self-define themselves as religious seekers and take action to change by interacting with selected people and by allowing affective ties to develop with them. Thus the Lofland-Stark model contained an implicit focus on a volitional subject, along with more traditional deterministic elements. The seminal quality of this work is shown by its being a starting point for those working in both the old and the new traditions of research on conversion. Those researchers more oriented toward predispositions have used this aspect of the model, while others find support for a more sociological and even activist starting point in the interactionist elements of the situational part of the model. Tests of the model have revealed that it has some serious empirical problems, especially in the more deterministic predisposition elements. Lofland himself modified the model in significant ways later by stressing the volitional aspects of the process. Another publication of Lofland with Skonovd also moved far beyond the initial conversion model and instead focused on basic "motifs" that seem to characterize conversions in a given time period. This view, coupled with that of a basic paradigm shift Richardson a, Kilbourne and Richardson or "drift" of conversion research interpretations Long and Hadden , has moved this area of scholarly research far beyond the more psychological and deterministic perspective dominant just a few decades ago. Now such research is likely to be more sociological in orientation e. Anthony New Brunswick, N. Barker, The Making of a Moonie Oxford: Baylor University Press, Prentice Hall, J. This is a fairly new phenomenon, as it has a notorious reputation that still lingers from the past. During the same period Moon became famous for conducting mass weddings, with over couples exchanging vows at the one time, and in the vast majority of cases, the Rev. Sun Moon selected the bride for the groom, and vice versa. Despite the off-beat way of doing things, the false doctrine, the psychological pressure placed on members and the money-grubbing tactics and fraud, this cult today has a sanitized appearance of family values and conservatism. Here are a few of the anti-biblical errors: God is being therefore both male and female, positive and negative ying and yang. God intended Jesus to find a bride, marry her and produce a new line of sinless children. It is more profitable when looking at this cult, to look at what Moon has recently been doing, and the current associations that have been formed and to ask for what purpose these things have been pursued. There is absolutely no doubt that this man poses the greatest danger to the Church of all the cults, with the exception perhaps of the Roman Church. This attracted world-wide media attention. It was here that Moon declared that whereas Jesus had failed on his mission to Earth, he, the Reverend Moon, would not. This event attracted a lot of attention in the media. Gay rights groups object to his uncompromising calls for a heterosexual-only society. Moon is implacably opposed to homosexuality and multiple heterosexual relationships, calling gays "dung-eating dogs" who would have no place in a "peace kingdom. Normally, this anti- Americanism would not sit well. But Moon has spread around billions of dollars from mysterious sources to Washington conservatives. The money has helped key allies, such as Jerry Falwell and Oliver North. The money trail is frightening. The Heritage Foundation then seems to have paid themselves a fee of one million dollars for their trouble. Moon has even been a guest speaker in mainline denominational Churches in the past few years. Falwell further praised Rev. Moon calling him, "An unsung hero to the cause of freedom, who is to be commended for his determination and courage and endurance in support of his beliefs. This article appears in the Nov. The place to hit, is the Moonies. The most important, and most significant nut-factor, which is a serious threat to our political order, inside the United States, is the Moonies. And the rest of the mess will be cleaned up. Sun Myung Moon, spent hundreds of millions of dollars to buy up the entire so-called "Christian Right" in America. This started with the William F. The main question for the Christian Right was, and still is: Congress passed a bill establishing "Parents Day" as a new national holiday, designated on the fourth Sunday of July. The leading Congressional sponsor of the Moon-instigated legislation was Rep. In a posting on the Unification Church website, Rev. In order for us to be cleansed of the original sin, we should be reborn. The method of rebirth is to receive the Marriage Blessing with the Reverend Moon as the officiator. That is the best way to be cleansed of the original sin. This cleansing remains to be done for all humankind. Only after having gone through this cleansing can we personally stand before God and grow as original human beings. The ad "quoted" Jesus Christ: The people, who have brought light to the history of Christianity, pledge to take part in all that the True Parents do, and resolve to strive toward the ideal, the original garden where there is no original sin, through the guidance, the words of the Completed Testament, and the Unification Principle, of the Savior and Messiah, the Reverend Sun Myung Moon. Moon landed in a South Korea jail in for his sexual missionary work. Those ultra-right-wing Anglo-American intelligence networks were pivoted around William F. According to a CIA report, dated Feb. Morris Liebman and Tongsun Park. By the late s, the CIA was attempting, to no avail, to shut down Gladio and other, now out-of-control paramilitary cells, which were engaging in "strategy of tension" terror attacks against continental Europe and elsewhere. In Washington, the South Korean colonel knew where to turn for help, in establishing an elaborate string of front groups, phony fundraising operations, and other covers. He hired Buckleyite Richard Viguerie as his chief "fundraiser. Through the Washington, D. It was a recipe that Moon would repeat over and over again. In the late s, Rep. Moon survived the scandal by spreading even more cash around Washington, creating more front-groups, and particularly spreading money around the emerging Buckley-dominated New Right. Among the early New Right recipients of Moon largesse was Joseph Churba, a childhood friend of Jewish Defense League founder Rabbi Meir Kahane, who was one of the key liaisons between the Likudnik right wing in Israel and the emerging neo-conservative crowd in Washington. At the inception of the group, Kahane and Churba worked with two other Columbia University students, the son of labor counterinsurgent Irving Brown, and Roy Godson. The Godson-Brown links to the first Churba-Kahane foray into right-wing politics raise interesting questions about whether the early JDL was one of the many covert projects associated with the late James Jesus Angleton, the CIA counterintelligence director. Angleton was the U. Angleton also had the exclusive CIA "franchise" for dealing with the Israeli intelligence services. All three groups stalked Soviet diplomats who were assigned to the United Nations, and staged noisy protests over the plight of Soviet "Refuseniks. The Betar operations were cited by Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson D-Wash. Churba graduated from the JDL to U. Air Force Intelligence during the mids, at one point heading up the Middle East intelligence desk. But after he attacked the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. George Brown, for disparaging comments about Israel, he had his security clearances stripped and left the government. After a brief stint as a consultant to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency from , Churba was again bounced from the government, when his patron, National Security Adviser Richard Allen, was forced to resign, under a cloud of scandal. From until his death in , Churba was a Moonie. Under Executive Order , the Reagan-Bush Administration created a gigantic loophole, allowing private organizations to be "deputized" as assets of U. The North Side of the Moon The Iran-Contra "secret parallel government" operation afforded the Moonies the opportunity to do what they do best: The largest recipient of Moonie largesse was Lt. Ronald Godwin, the vice president of the Washington Times Corp. The American Freedom

Coalition was a prototypical Moon front, drawing in everything filthy on the American ultra-right, along with a few bought-off old civil rights figures, including Rev. Showdown in Brazil The Clinton years were not good times in America for the Moon crowd, which bankrolled a non-stop propaganda campaign against the President, through Falwell, Robertson, and the other Christian Zionist flunkies who had been seduced by Moon cash and sex. At one point, according to news accounts, Moon considered moving his entire Western Hemisphere operations to Brazil, where the Moon apparatus had bought vast tracts of land. Now, the Brazilian government is taking concerted action against the Moonies, charging them with tax evasion and money laundering. One trigger for the probe, according to recent news accounts in the Brazilian press, was the massive purchase of land by the Moonies along the Brazilian border with Bolivia and Paraguay. Since , Moon has bought up large areas of land in Mato Grosso do Sul, and hundreds of thousands of acres, including an entire town, in Paraguay, a country notorious as a contraband and money-laundering center for drug cartels and other criminal organizations. Official investigations into the Moon land-grab began in mid In November , the state legislature of Mato Grosso do Sul held hearings on the Moon land "investments. The Public Prosecutors Office is charging the group with posing a threat to the national security of Brazil. A Paradox for Mr. There are no credible reports of where the Moon empire gets its dough. There is one more question that ought to be rumbling between the ears of Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, Deputy Secretary Paul Wolfowitz, Vice President Dick Cheney, and other Bush Administration officials who are contemplating the promised wars against the alleged "axis of evil" troika of Iraq, Iran, and North Korea. They count on the Moonie press to propagandize for the imperial march, even as the majority of American citizens recoil in horror at the idea of the United States imitating the decline and fall of the Roman Empire in fast-forward. As investigative reporter Robert Parry reported in a Jan. A third declassified DIA document, dated Sept. Bo Hi Pak in Pyongyang. According to a Congressional commission on missile technology proliferation, chaired by Rumsfeld, during the period of the Moon-North Korea transactions, Pyongyang was engaged in a crash program to build a new generation of missiles, which the neo-conservatives today proclaim as the greatest threat to the stability of North Asia.

Chapter 8 : ALLIANCE BETWEEN EVANGELICALS AND THE MOONIES

Young Soon Kim is a unification church leader, and promotes communication with the dead, as do Moon and all his devoted followers. Moon's doctrine also teaches that departed souls can take over a living body and live through that host, thus carrying on with their teachings.

It was officially founded in by Sun Myung Moon which has led to the referring of his followers as "Moonies" and moved to America in , where he established his international headquarters. Born in Korea in , Moon claims that in , when he was 16, Jesus Christ appeared to him on Easter morning on a mountainside in Northwestern Korea and told him that God had chosen him for the mission of establishing the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth, a mission that Christ had only begun. In , North Korean authorities arrested and jailed Moon he spent two years in a labor camp , accusing him of bigotry and adultery. The largest concentration of Moonies reside in Korea and Japan. In , Moon published the English version of the Divine Principle as the authoritative work of the Unification Church. This "church" has been the subject of much negative U. In , Moon was convicted of federal income tax fraud, for which he served 11 months of an month sentence in federal prison beginning in the summer of To train those interested in joining the movement, a "seminary" was established in at Barrytown, New York the Unification Theological Seminary , with the goal of unifying all theological beliefs. The Unification News is a monthly newspaper owned by the Church. They also publish a monthly magazine called Insight. While not an official publication of the Unification Church, the Church does own and operate the Washington Times, located in Washington, D. Moon is a permanent resident of the U. Moon is particularly fond of drawing former U. Moon has masterfully used his hard line anti-communist campaigns, multi-million dollar business deals, and substantial political donations to blur his ultimate objective of a one-world government originating from a centralized religious power -- ruled by Moon -- under which his followers will purchase goods and services only from church sponsored manufacturers. The Unification Church has also been linked to a variety of associated organizations. The Moonies teach that the Bible is "not the truth itself, but a textbook teaching the truth. Divine Principle is considered to be the "third testament" of the Bible, and superior to the Bible. They also believe in continuing revelation. Moon claims to have received new revelations from God; i. And I also spoke with John the Baptist. This is my authority. Any person harboring doubts about Moon is deemed to be allowing himself to be part of the work of Satan. The Moonies interpret much of the Bible allegorically; they teach that the thieves on the cross represent democracy the "right" and Communism the "left". They claim that "resurrection" does not refer to raising the dead, but to accepting the "word of God" cf. They say that the expression "end of the world" only means that "evil is going to end. He says that "God has established many religions. God cannot be found where there is conflict. Catholicism and Protestantism must become one. Dualism and the Fall. Moonies believe that everything in existence has a dual aspect, including God. Therefore, the Fall was the result of sexual sin; i. According to Moon, then, sin is a matter of genetics physical children of Lucifer , not moral choice. Salvation, therefore, requires a physical redemption; i. God must exist in polarity. That is, He must possess within Himself the dual characteristics of masculinity and femininity which are perfectly expressed and fully harmonized in His nature. The doctrine of divine polarity taught by Unification theology should be seen not as an eccentric novelty but rather as a reaffirmation of a valid theological insight" Unification Theology, p. Moonies deny the deity of Jesus Christ; instead they claim He was just a man, not God. All human traits originate in God. They teach that Jesus was not virgin born, but was the bastard offspring of Zechariah and Mary! They also claim that Jesus failed in His earthly mission Divine Principle , pp. However, He was killed before He could fulfill His mission i. Moonies believe that John the Baptist was responsible for the death of Jesus by failing to convert his audience into a power bloc for Jesus Divine Principle , pp. They do not believe that Jesus was physically resurrected cf. The Unification Church has given titles to Moon that indicate it considers him to be this "third Adam. They believe a person earns his salvation through fasting, fund-raising, recruitment, and other such works. They claim that both a spiritual and a physical salvation are needed -- and that the "third Adam" will provide physical salvation by marrying and producing sinless children Divine Principle , p. They teach that once the "third Adam" comes, those who have paid indemnity will also be able to marry and bear sinless children. Like God Himself, the Spirit is invisible and incorporeal -- a bright light or a field of magnetic energy" Unification Theology, pp. Moonies deny the Biblical concept of the Trinity. They teach that the "third Adam," his bride, and God constituted the first "trinity," and that mankind will be restored by forming trinities with God through marriage. Hence it is not primarily interested in defending the Trinitarian doctrine of the fourth century creeds" Unification Theology, p. Moon teaches that "God-centered families are the building blocks of a world of peace, stability, and love," and that only those who are married will be saved, or qualified, for the kingdom. These numbers are, of course, highly suspect. Members celebrate as birthdays the day they joined the Unification Church. Moonies use Biblical terms to refer to the Second Coming, but have changed their meanings. They teach that the Kingdom of God on earth and in heaven will be established by the "third Adam" through marriage. I am the incarnation of Himself. Moonies teach that heaven is a realm of the spirit world and that hell is inconsequential because it will "pass away as heaven expands," and all mankind is redeemed. This new "messiah," called the "Lord of the Second Advent" by Moon, was born in Korea in which, coincidentally, is the place and time of his own birth. By the year , Moon claimed, the Messiah would be revealed cf. Therefore, Moon does not want us to think of the Second Coming in terms of a literal interpretation of Scripture, which states that Jesus will come in the clouds with great glory. The whole world is in my hand, and I will conquer and subjugate the world. Master here [Moon] is more than any of those people and greater than Jesus himself. Man is incarnate God. He had a sitting with famed Spirit Medium Arthur Ford. After Ford had gone into a trance, Pak asked, "Could you ask him in connection with the New Age, more specifically, the mission of Our Leader here today? The Jesus of Galilee will not return, it is not necessary. The Christ who manifested through him is the Eternal, he will manifest again. But the important thing to remember is that when God wants to make a revelation he has to choose a human instrument Sun Myung Moon is the one I have been talking about. I have been speaking for a group of people here. This group seems to surround him. And the power that flows through him, the intelligence, is not just one it is a great group of people. And they seem all to draw their inspiration and their knowledge from One Source and then they seem to pour it symbolically into a pool and in some strange symbolical way that pool becomes Sun Myung Moon. He is, and as long as he lives will continue to be, a channel for revelation" Unknown But Known, pp. The term "Mass Marriage" is actually a misnomer, but that is what they are popularly known as. In reality, no one is being married in these mass wedding spectacles. Instead, the "Blessing," as Moonies refer to this event, is a religious ceremony and not actual weddings. Though they are dressed as brides and grooms and repeat marriage vows at these events, the ones that intend to be husband and wife will have to obtain marriage licenses from whatever jurisdiction they reside in.

Chapter 9 : The Unholy Alliance - Christianity & The NWO Part IV

"In , after a military coup of a democratic government in South Korea that brought Park to power,KCIA decided to organize and utilize a church called Unification Church, as a political tool of the right wing military government.

August 31, NewsWithViews. However, it was obviously operated and controlled by Unification Church and nearly all speakers praised Rev. Moon and Unification Church. Two years later, I had an unexpected encounter with Tim LaHaye on the subject. It was February 7, I left Washington, D. I did not see Tim LaHaye again while in Washington. From there I was taken to Denver for a busy and intense schedule that would span the next two weeks. We obtained our food and had just seated. Wanda answered the page. She then summoned me. Tim LaHaye calling from Washington, D. I think you should speak with her yourself. Wanda answered it and then handed it to me. Tim LaHaye started by apologizing for not getting back to me in Washington, D. Did she make it all up? Moon and Bo Hi Pak. I was writing to thank him for those stories. I note for the record that that the context of the letter was clearly financial. Moreover, it appeared to be priming the pump for more Unification Church contributions. Tim then said that he had been involved in Coalition for Religious Freedom for religious liberty issues. I told him that it was my understanding that Rev. It was a tax fraud case, pure and simple. Moon had produced some allegedly 15 year old affidavits to prove that he had been holding property in trust from Unification Church members. The IRS had done their standard watermark testing and discovered that the documents were very new ones. You call it the New Age Movement. I never spoke to him again. A few weeks later, I was speaking in the Seattle area. Angie Schiermeyer, my West Coast coordinator answered a ringing telephone. On the other end was the Washington Concerned Women of America coordinator. All fifty state coordinators were there. Encouragingly, however, over the years some courageously resisted Unification Church lures and pressures. A Minnesota conservative activist James Racer was moved to write a pamphlet warning about the dangers of networking with Unification Church. He was urge to silence as I so often was by those who said he would damage the conservative cause by speaking. Here is what Racer so cogently presented: If the conservative movement is based on fraud and deception, which it would be if this truth is stifled, then it deserves to be damaged. Combining the thousands of black church leaders trained through various Moon-linked organizations with the new-found political power and savvy of the so-called New Right Christian activists, many who would be attracted to Christian Voice, would have a profound impact on America and the world. Regardless of what Dr. Ralph Abernathy, Richard Viguerie, Gary Jarmin, Dan Peterson, or any of the other hundreds of officers and leaders involved in AFC believe, the documentation I received after my resignation provided to me that the Rev. If he ever uttered a word against the New Age Movement, I never heard of it. Again the lure for him was obviously money. Moon had reportedly bailed his university out of a financial crisis. What could have been persuasive voices against religious apostasy and the New Age Movement, including one of its more odious expressions in the form of Rev. Part V of this expanding series. Before beginning her legal career, she worked as a legislative analyst for the Speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, and while in law school as a consultant to the Appropriations Committee of the Michigan State Senate. The Staging of a New Age Messiah
