

Chapter 1 : Waiting for Goldberg: A Book That Affects Lives by Bob Cioppa

What most impresses me about WAITING FOR GOLDBERG is the passion with which it has been written. As a parent of teenagers, I can honestly say that I've done many things wrong, but one thing I did right was to be concerned about their schooling and aware of what was happening in the classroom.

After being cut from the Falcons, in he was selected by the new expansion team, the Carolina Panthers , in the NFL expansion draft , but never played a game with the team. He was the first player to have been cut by the Panthers. He had hopes of returning to the league after rehabilitation but, due to his lack of success, was not considered a major asset. Goldberg has described playing in the NFL as "a mixed emotional experience" because, despite reaching the goal of simply playing in the NFL, he did not obtain the level of achievement that he desired. He was spotted by Lex Luger and Sting who urged him to try professional wrestling. Working as Bill Gold, Goldberg made five appearances. His final pre-televised appearance was in a dark match on July 24 at a Saturday Night taping in a loss to Chad Fortune. Undefeated streak " [ edit ] On the September 22, episode of Nitro, Goldberg defeated Hugh Morrus in his debut match. Soon afterward, he began to score quick victories over his fellow WCW wrestlers in the range of 1-2 minutes. The newcomer captivated fans with his monstrous yet silent charisma, brute strength, and agility that saw him vault the ropes, perform high kicks and even the occasional backflip. Goldberg made his pay-per-view debut at Starrcade defeating Steve McMichael. At Slamboree , he ended his feud with The Flock after a successful title defense against Saturn. Hogan eventually promised Goldberg a title match. The match was scheduled for the July 6, episode of Nitro held at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta with over 40, in attendance, but Hogan insisted that Goldberg first had to defeat his nWo stablemate Scott Hall. At Road Wild , Goldberg won a battle royal , consisting of nWo members. At Halloween Havoc , the feud was settled after Goldberg defeated Page to retain the title. Goldberg won when he used the taser, which was hung high above the ring, requiring the ladder to obtain it. Did stepping on bugs count? Goldberg defeated Sid via referee stoppage, and thus won his second United States Heavyweight Championship. Sid Vicious managed to interfere in the contest and cost Goldberg the match, thus giving him his second career loss, costing him the title, and eliminating him from the tournament which was eventually won by Hart at Mayhem in November. Hart continued on, suffering what he believed to be at least one other concussion when he hit his head on the floor while executing a ringpost-assisted figure-four leglock. The match ended when Roddy Piper , the special guest referee for the contest, declared Hart the winner despite Goldberg never having submitted to the Sharpshooter. Shortly after his title match loss, Goldberg injured himself on the December 23, episode of Thunder, during a sequence where he chased the nWo limousine into the parking lot. A spot in the sequence called for Goldberg to pound on the windshield of the limousine with his hands. To ensure his safety, Goldberg had assistance from a piece of metal pipe and his hands were covered in black tape. There were four windows on the side of the limousine and Goldberg broke the first two with his hands. He then got aggressive, putting his forearm through the third window and immediately gashing it. Goldberg finished the sequence by pounding on the hood of the limo with his bloody arm, but immediately after it ended he was taken from the arena and rushed to a nearby hospital where the wound was patched. Goldberg lost a large amount of blood due to the accident. He then began a rivalry with Steiner, culminating in a no disqualification match at Fall Brawl which Goldberg lost due to outside interference. If Goldberg was to lose another match at any point in time, unless he managed to duplicate his undefeated streak from to , he would be forced to retire from professional wrestling. His streak was broken at Sin when Goldberg, teaming with his Power Plant trainer DeWayne Bruce , lost to Totally Buffed in a tag team no disqualification match after a " fan " maced him, enabling Totally Buffed to pin him. Goldberg instead remained under contract to Time Warner until May , when he agreed on a contract buyout. In August , he returned to the ring in Japan. On the May 12 episode of Raw, a mystery assailant attempted to run over Goldberg with a limousine. One of the interrogatees was Lance Storm , who admitted that he was the assailant. Austin forced Storm into a match with Goldberg, who defeated Storm, immediately after which Goldberg forced Storm to admit that Jericho was the superstar who conspired Storm into running him over.

Furious, Goldberg demanded a match against Batista, but Triple H got involved in the match by trying to cripple Goldberg, who executed a spear on Triple H and attacked Batista with a sledgehammer. After the match, Kane unexpectedly came out to seemingly assist Goldberg after Evolution continued their assault on him following the match. After scaring off Evolution, he turned on Goldberg and executed a chokeslam on him. The following week on Raw, Kane attacked Goldberg again while he was defending the championship against Triple H in a rematch from Survivor Series and expressed his desire to face Goldberg for the title. On the December 8 episode of Raw, Goldberg faced Kane in a lumberjack match which ended in a disqualification when Evolution and Mark Henry entered the ring and assaulted Goldberg. At Armageddon on December 14, Goldberg lost the title when Triple H pinned him after interference from Evolution and a chokeslam from Kane, thus ending his reign at 84 days. The feud escalated at the Royal Rumble on January 25, when Goldberg was in the midst of dominating the Royal Rumble match he eliminated Charlie Haas , Billy Gunn and Nunzio as the 30th entrant until Lesnar interfered in the match and executed an F-5 on Goldberg. McMahon attempted to get Goldberg to leave Lesnar, but Goldberg executed a spear on Heyman and accidentally executed a spear on Austin when he was aiming for McMahon. Goldberg attended No Way Out as a fan, confronting Lesnar at the event and, after several insults by Lesnar, entered the ring and countered a F-5 from Lesnar with a Jackhammer, before being detained and escorted out of the arena by security guards. During the main event between Lesnar and Eddie Guerrero on February 15, Goldberg reemerged from the crowd and cost Lesnar the title. Fans knew this would be the final WWE match for both Goldberg and Lesnar, and thus gave largely negative reactions throughout the performance. While he was not scheduled to wrestle at the event, Goldberg came to the aid of Rob Van Dam after his match with Scott Steiner. He performed a spear on Steiner and a Jackhammer on Doc Gallows. At WrestleMania 33 on April 2, despite performing four spears and a Jackhammer, Goldberg lost the title to Lesnar in what was also his first clean singles loss. This was then confirmed on Raw when it was announced by WWE. During his speech accepting the award, he discussed the various wrestlers that helped him attain his public status, and his view on professional wrestling as a whole, which had become much more positive over the years. I never say never, though. Goldberg became a color commentator for the EliteXC organization during their inaugural event. USA , Strikeforce Shamrock vs. Renegade , and EliteXC: The truck was very successful winning the Monster Jam World Finals Racing championship in both and and the Freestyle championship in Goldberg co-authored his own biography with his brother Steve. With Bill Goldberg, which includes weekly guest interviews. Film and television[ edit ] Goldberg began acting while working for WCW in His appearance in Universal Soldier: The Return corresponded with him being featured in the music video. On the show he showed the contestants his various power moves and also how to hit an opponent with a steel chair. He went on to host three seasons of the Speed Channel show Bullrun.

January 30, , 1: Hence Greenwald is self-hating. If it is good and somehow exists in Christianity then its source must be paganism, but everything in Judaism can be defined in some minor mediocre regressive way. Well, as far as Heaven goes, whether it came from the Persians or the Greeks, by the time of Jesus, there was a concept of Heaven that had pervaded the Pharisees, usually yet another derogatory term for the rabbis, but in this case referring to the philosophy of the group that Jesus belonged to. Where Judaism or the Jewish people are located or heading at this date in I cannot reassure, but to echo those who call Judaism an earth religion reveals your animus and also your ignorance of the folk religion that Judaism was not so long ago. January 30, , Like questioning the transfer agreement. Like chatting about the Bolsheviks back in the early days of the last century. Like bitterly criticizing the occupation and moaning and groaning about the religious take-over of that country ah, how tragic â€” and all that. This is what every Jewish person knows and certainly every Israeli expects â€” deep abiding love. Why do israelis mistrust Obama? That it can turn on a dime. Well, we all know Obama is a bit aloof, emotionally. Phil still thinks he is cool, as a person. But we also know and expect that he could not have become president were he any different, given what elections are like around here. As Annie said â€” totally passive aggressive. A Jewish mother specialty so not lumping them all into one, honestâ€. One last thought â€” Romney. Strangely Jewish people who support him probably feel that from such as him love is not needed. Emotional robots can be controlled â€” so trust is really not an issue. Romney will respond to pressure at the push of a button. So who needs emotion when you got the finger on the controls, wirelessly activated? Citizen January 30, , 1: And yes, Gemutlichkeit sp, anyone? I point you to the Hollywood movie Greenberg. Take it as a metaphor. The ego creates an enemy in order to insulate itself from culpability. While the normal words both speak to a feeling of frustration directed at a perceived source, neither speaks to the special relationship between a sense of inferiority and the creation of morality. January 30, , 3: I know what you are talking about when it comes to Greenberg movies. Found it irritating, for some reason. The mannerisms bugged me. That, IMO, is what explains the unusual hostility Ressentiment? I think some people, like perhaps Bruce, sensed â€” without anyone saying as much that certain individuals me? Do you like Israel? Does GG like Israel? What a lousy question. There is a very great deal to admire, respect and honor in the Jewish tradition and among many Jews. But when I feel relentless pressure from any ethnic group to express my devotion and loyalty, I instinctively recoil. Sane people do not demand declarations of worship for their ethnic group or ethnic nationalism on a daily basis. Demanding that kind of unnatural attention and affection is guaranteed to backfire over the long run and radically alienate everyone. Sane people go about their business, try to do their best work, and now and then perhaps get quiet recognition for their good deeds. We need state of the art psychoanalysis to get a handle on people like Jeffrey Goldberg. How much resentment might be boiling under the surface there? I am betting quite a bit. And you never know when that resentment might erupt. Drastic change in our campaign finance system would work wonders overnight. Log in to Reply January 30, , 7: Let them know that we expect their Valentine cards to be addressed to Americans, not Israelis. We pay their salaries and pensions, after all. MHughes January 30, , To be anti- or miso-X is unfair or worse to everyone who is X, to be pro- or philo-X risks unfairness, at least, towards everyone else. Where did the guarantee come from?
