"Lord, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth! You have set your glory in the heavens. Through the praise of children and infants you have established a stronghold against your enemies, to silence the foe and the avenger.

White 92 Comments Have you been inspired by the War Room movie to pray more fervently for your marriage? The movie is a must see!! The storyline brought me back to my own marriage crisis. With that little notebook, I had a traveling war room. The pain is almost unbearable at times. How do I choose to love someone who rejects me? I understand there is a spiritual war against my marriage and the evil one is at work to divide us. I embrace the reality that my husband is not my enemy. Please help him see this spiritual reality and make the same choice. I trust in Your resurrection power to restore loving kindness and passion in our sacred marriage. Our hurt feelings, self-protective stances and harsh words are no match for your restoration power. Now, my heart is bitter and I grumble under my breath when doing even the smallest things. Please help me forgive my spouse for every snide remark, every dissatisfied comment, and his lack of attention to my efforts. I need Your Holy Spirit to make me an effective helpmate. Counsel me to serve in ways that will have a profound impact and meet some of his deepest, even hidden needs. Make me wise and disciplined to pray specifically and persistently for him. I trust that You have equipped me with good gifts, and You can make them a great blessing to my husband. You demonstrated this honor when you approached the woman at the well. You did not hide from her. You showed no disgust of her choices. You spoke to her with gentleness and kindness. You presented the truth about her without shaming her. You simply offered her a different life, the rich life You offer to all of us. Purify my heart, Lord. I want to be able to discuss our areas of conflict without disrespecting him. Help me not to cooperate with the enemy who would love for my words to destroy his self-image and reputation. Help me follow Your lead, Jesus, and serve Your purposes in this marriage. This war between us leaves me thirsty for love. My heart cries out for affection. My soul tells me I deserve better than this. I choose to honor the righteousness of Jesus by keeping our marriage bed pure. By the power of Your Holy Spirit, I will deny myself what the world offers, so I can receive all that You have to give us. Please help my husband do the same. I will wait in the shelter of Your wing for love to overflow between us. I am guilty of creating a false sense of unity and peace. I surrender my mind and personality to You. Help my husband do the same. Your Word says we are to be subject to one another. I trust You are able to change our hearts and our minds. Send Your Word to heal us and deliver us from our destructive ways. Transform my thoughts by the power of Your Word. Ignite in me an unquenchable desire to see him as You see him. Let Your Holy Spirit be my husband-appreciating coach, pointing out to me his noble and praiseworthy attributes. Be my gentle shepherd. Lead me away from the activities and relationships that would keep me from prioritizing our marriage over every other earthly relationship. Remind him of the peaceful and confident life You deliver when he lives out Your instructions. I want his heart and mind to be brimming with joy and peace. Because of His relationship with You, his life will be hope-filled! Tear down any misconceptions that he has about You. Help him to see that You are the God that gives 1 Corinthians 13 love: I invite You to teach him Your character and roles in his life. Help him to know You as his defender, his counselor, his shepherd, his comforter, his encourager, his Savior, and so much more.

I mean, really pray! What a powerful movie! She meets Miss Clara, an elderly woman who has a house to sell. But the relationship that develops involves much more than that. It would be a great way to end our study year. War Room Bible Study Written by Stephen and Alex Kendricks the brothers who produced the movie and developed by Nic Allen, the War Room Bible Study features five sessions built around clips from the movie, discussion questions, and three days of Bible study homework. Here are the session titles: What to do, what to do, I wondered? With all prayer and petition pray at all times in the Spirit, and with this in view, be on the alert with all perseverance and petition for all the saints, and pray. A cunning, devilish enemy seeks to wreak havoc on everything that matters to you – your emotions, your mind, your family, your future. The enemy always fails miserably when he meets a woman dressed for the occasion. A woman who is armed and dangerous. After all, how cool would it be to watch Priscilla Shirer learn the lessons of prayer in War Room and then teach the lessons of prayer in Armor of God? See how we did it in the schedule below. To lighten the homework load, we chose to only use the Armor of God workbook. First, God has chosen you for this position and He will give you the wisdom you need. In fact, please, please, ASK! Keep your heart, eyes and ears open – God will reveal the study He has for you. Think outside the box. There may be ways to expand or tighten the study to meet your timeline. After all, my friend – there is a warrior inside you and each of your women waiting to be wakened. In your life as well as in the lives of the people you serve. This post contains affiliate links.

War Room Prayer 1: But I cling to this: You justify the ungodly. This is the basis on which I pray and do battle. It is against rulers, against powers, against the world forces of darkness, against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places. This is where I will do battle Lord, and I will do it in prayer. He has been overruled Eph 1: Christ is far above. I confess the Lordship of Christ. I renounce all other gods and ungodly deeds. I bow to the headship and authority of Jesus Christ alone. You refused to let my enemies triumph over me. You will fight for me and complete the victory in me. You will stretch forth Your hand against the wrath of my enemies, and Your right hand will save me. My battle is not over. I walk through treacherous ground yet I will trust You to save and deliver me. You will fight for me. War Room Prayer 9: I trust in Your faithfulness. You will present me blameless in Your presence. It is upon this hope I cast myself and acknowledge Your authority, power, and majesty. To You be all the glory and honor. It is for these things- for Your glory and honor- that I ask Your mighty hand to bring about victory in my life. Related Resources you may Find Helpful:

War Room Bible Study. The War Room Bible Study includes five scriptural lessons and inspiring movie clips found in the new Kendrick Brothers' movie WAR racedaydvl.com short series provides a variety of heartfelt or humorous movie scenes and Bible study sessions that can be used in a corporate church message series or a small group Bible study setting.

Do You Have a War Room? This is one of my favorite promises from the Word of God—and you can take it to the bank. This is one of the most—if not THE most—amazing things about being in a relationship with Jesus. Any moment of the day can be turned from the ordinary into an extraordinary encounter with the Living God and Creator of the universe! And this is the premise behind the film War Room, whose tagline is: Sometimes prayer is for requests, and sometimes it is for comfort or cheer. It can be for a time praise and petition; it can be for times of sadness and gladness. But sometimes, and maybe oftentimes, we should shift our perspective to more of a military orientation. The idea behind the War Room is simple. Each day, take time to go to God in prayer and ask your Commander-in-Chief to help you strategize, battle and be victorious in this cosmic war that rages all around us. Put up Bible verses that specifically relate to the strategy and claim them to be true in the name of Jesus! Before long, I believe that you will see results. They may be earth shattering, or they may be as imperceptible as the spots on the sun—but either way, they represent victories that represent eternal impact. But perhaps you are not feeling so confident about your prayer life—much less a war room? If so, be encouraged! If we go to God in our own strength and confidence or even an ounce of pride, we are doomed to fail. Just like a good General never underestimated his enemy, neither should we ever underestimate the most powerful being ever created—Satan! Instead, focus on these powerful observations from godly men and women who have battled the devil in their war rooms: In fact, I have so much to do that I shall have to spend the first three hours in prayer. It is not the only thing; but it is the chief thing. The great people of the earth today are the people who pray. I do not mean those who talk about prayer; nor those who say they believe in prayer; nor yet those who can explain about prayer; but I mean those people who take time to pray. Gordon Pray against the enemy, who seeks to destroy everything in his path—which includes you! These are people who knew how to design a war room and get after it! And because they did, God used them to bring about some of the most remarkable things ever accomplished for the glory of Jesus Christ. So starting today, carve out a place and a space to be your war room. And when the time seems fruitless or useless, or you feel time pressure or peer pressure to quit or compromise on your war room, let these words give you renewed commitment and strength: Jesus, thank You for the gift of prayer and the chance to be a world changer simply by praying. Draw us into conversations with You on a daily basis. Prayer is as essential as breathing! Make sure your students know how to do it well.
