

Chapter 1 : Does He Love Me? 19 Signs That He Is Head Over Heels In Love | Mercury

Do you love your boyfriend so much it hurts, and feels like you're head over heels in love? The first flush of love can be something so intense it knocks you off your feet, but how do you know whether you're actually in love, or if it's just lust?

You spend countless nights moping in your bed wondering if he has also the same feelings for you. Well I laid out some stuff so that you can wake up and smell the coffee; coz he just might not be in love with you. It would be good to find out, right? So here are some things you might need to know. He always says you have such a great friendship â€” He keeps on playing the friend card. Even if the sex is phenomenal you deserve more than being his pal. Men may be polygamous by nature but if he sees you as his future partner he would at least be discreet enough not to go about showing off his girl hunting prowess to you. He forgets your birthday or the plans you guys have made. Sometimes he can intentionally ignore you. Most guys hate clingy women though. He can say so many excuses just to avoid you. If you decide to call him he always tries to make the conversation casual and cool. He can just be staying there because a. He needs you for something or b. The sex is really great. He would only devote time to you if he feels obligated to do so. On weekends and you try to catch him, his phone is either dead or just keeps on ringing. He always says that he would be the one to call you; but sometimes he never does. They think about sex constantly. Worse part is he bolts once you fall asleep and forgets to leave a note or contact you for days. He says sorry for doing a rain check on your plans but never tries to make up for it. He never introduces you to his buddies â€” Guys are much like wolves, they like hunting in packs. He will put you in the filing cabinet and never ever pull out your file. The more you love someone, the more power you give them to hurt you and break you. If you think you can be a martyr then that is totally fine. On the other hand, you can always reclaim the power and make him fall in love with you. Hmmm that would be a great to write about in my next post. Until then, if you want to make him fall for you, take a look at this super cool tip for making him crazy about you.
